

MR. STEARNS TESTIFIES IN $10,000 LIBEL SUIT Alleged Libelous Articles Read in Court Today--The Plaintiff Cross-Examined

The case of Frank K. Stearns, a former chairman of the board of police, against Dennis A. Long, publisher of a local Sunday paper, an action of tort to recover $10,000 for alleged libel, was resumed this morning at the superior court before Judge Stevens.

Yesterday afternoon Lawyer William H. Bent, counsel for the plaintiff, in opening the case read the different counts, 21 in number, and this morning gave a general outline of his case. He produced files of the defendant's paper and read therefrom various articles which it is alleged are libelous.

The reading of the different articles in the files took up considerable time. Mr. Bent going into detail in each article. He also referred to the display headings on some of the articles.

One of the most prominent articles referred to was headed "Under Hypnotic Spell of Lameholders of Lowell." There was another article that was titled "Acting in the Interests of the Rumblers." There were other articles which it is alleged referred to the acts of Mr. Stearns while a member of the police board.

Frank K. Stearns, the plaintiff, was the first witness called. He testified in part as follows: "I have lived in Lowell 37 years and have carried on a laundry business in this city for 32 years. It being known as Scripture's laundry. I have a wife, two daughters and a son. One of my daughters is married and lives in Cold Springs, N. Y. My other daughter is living at home with me at the present time, as is my son.

"Questioned by Mr. Bent, the witness said: 'I was a member of the school board for four years, a member of the general court for two years, and a member of the board of police from December, 1907 until June, 1910.

Mr. Stearns said that he and Mr. Thomas P. Bouvier and Charles H. Hanson, all members of the board of police at that time, were, after a hearing, removed from office by the then mayor, George H. Brown. Witness said that he and his colleagues appealed to the superior court and they were restored to office.

Mr. Stearns stated that when he took office it was a custom that wing a member of the department was under charge the officer should be given a chance to choose between a private and a public hearing.

One of the counts in the charge refers to an article relative to Dr. Benner. "Who is Dr. Benner?" asked Lawyer Bent. "He is an expert in the examination of persons alleged to be insane," was the answer.

On cross examination the witness in answer to questions by Mr. Murphy, counsel for the defense, stated the time he spent at his work in the laundry and also that spent at the duties of police as chairman of the board of police.

Mr. Murphy in trying to show that Mr. Stearns had not suffered any injury referred to his work as an amateur theatrical man. The witness said that he had taken part in dramatics for 40 years.

Mr. Murphy referred to a play in which the witness was an actor. "That was a farce comedy, was it not?" was the question.

"No, sir," was the prompt answer. "What was the nature of the play?"

"It was a comedy, but I never took any part in a farce comedy."

"Are you going to take any part in a play tonight?"

"I expect that I will be the inter-locutor."

"And you have had many rehearsals?"

"I have not had any rehearsal." Counsel for the defense referred to Mr. Stearns' actions while on the police board and read a long typewritten instruction addressed to the patrolmen, a copy of which was sent out by the board of police while Mr. Stearns was chairman.

At this point reference was made relative to the hearing held by ex-Mayor Brown when he removed the plaintiff and the other two commissioners and also the reinstatement of the board by the superior court.

Witness testified that three different members of the Law and Order league had called upon him relative to the sale of liquor and the use of sandwiches on Sunday. Mr. Stearns said that he gave the suggestion considerable thought.

"What was done as a result?" asked counsel. "We visited the different hotels. We also visited the superintendent of police to employ four members of the department to make weekly visits, on Sundays, for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of the hotels."

"Was any other action taken?"

"Yes, we called the hotel keepers to meet at the house of the board and instructed them as to the manner in which they should conduct their business on Sunday."

Reference was then made to the hearing of the three commissioners of the police board, their being removed from office and their being subsequently restored as a result of the decision rendered by Judge Dana.

At this point counsel for the defense read a number of reports of visits made to the local hotels by the liquor inspectors.

A recess of ten minutes was taken at this time and upon the resumption of the case Lawyer Murphy continued with the reading of the reports of liquor inspectors who had visited the hotels on Sunday in 1908.

At this point Judge Stevens asked counsel for the defense to abbreviate the reading of the records of the liquor inspectors. Mr. Murphy asked the privilege of quoting the records of the inspection on several other dates and his request was granted. He devoted about half an hour to the reading of records relative to the number of persons present at different hours in the various hotels during the time that the plaintiff was chairman of the board of police.

Mr. Stearns Recalled At the conclusion of the reading of the reports Mr. Stearns took the stand again and testified that the reports of the liquor inspectors were perused every Tuesday night at the meetings of the board of police.

"Your board received a letter from Lawyer Johnson, counsel for the board, relative to the conditions in the hotels in this city?" asked Mr. Murphy.

"Yes, sir."

"You conveyed to Mr. Johnson certain information relative to these facts?"

"Yes, sir."

"When did you have any of the innkeepers before the board?"

"On September 1 the license of the St. Charles hotel was brought before the board for a violation of the law."

Counsel for the defense at this point queried the witness relative to the manner in which he (Mr. Stearns) interpreted the law about the use of liquor as being brought in at the hearing before ex-Mayor Brown.

Mr. Stearns stated that while he was in office, as a member of the police board, he, on different occasions, had conferences with a member and members of the Law and Order league.

Lawyer Murphy then questioned the witness relative to count four, which referred to the closing of Rorif's stores on Sunday.

Mr. Stearns, upon being put through a rapid cross-examination, testified that the articles which appeared in the defendant's paper had given him considerable thought.

At this time reference was made to the summoning of ex-Mayor Brown

WASHINGTON, June 6.—With four American battleships steaming toward Guantanamo, the force of marines immediately available for the protection of foreign life and property in Cuba is increased to more than 1500.

The battleships Minnesota, Missouri and Ohio, the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, which put out from Key West late yesterday under command of Rear Admiral Usher should arrive at Guantanamo probably tomorrow.

As President Gomez indicated in his statement last night the assumption by the American marines of responsibility for the safety of the foreign properties in Oriente will relieve Gen. Montagu's army of the most onerous portion of its work and will enable that officer to begin almost immediately an organized campaign in force against the marauding bands of negro insurgents.

The state department fully confirms President Gomez's declaration regarding the non-political nature of the American naval movement. It is intended solely to guard the foreign owned plantations and mines at points where the Cuban government forces cannot extend protection.

A VOLUNTEER GUARD WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Gomez has informed the United States that he is forming a volunteer guard to protect foreign property and asks that his recent order for Krug Jorgensen rifles be increased from 5000 to 10,000 and that 2,000,000 cartridges accompany them.

QUIET IN HAVANA HAVANA, June 6.—The government was without further news from Oriente province this morning and did not expect a forward movement of the troops until the Cuban plantation guards, now relieved of this duty by the American marines, had rejoined their respective commands and the guerrilla corps now being organized had begun to take the field. All was quiet in this city and vicinity today.

before the police board and the subsequent election of Mr. Brown and later the hearing of the members of the police board before the mayor.

The Hersey Case The matter of the action of the board relative to the findings in the case of ex-Patrolman Charles Hersey was also reviewed and Mr. Stearns admitted that he and another member of the board found the officer not guilty and that the third member of the board submitted a minority report. The officer in question was given a public hearing after making an arrest of a man for drunkenness who it is alleged never drank any intoxicants.

At 3:36 o'clock this morning an alarm from box 415 summoned a portion of the fire department to Tewksbury beyond the Wiggsville line, where Paul Smith's house was on fire.

The department went as far as the city limits only, but when the chief arrived he gave the Protective company orders to go to the fire and their work was needed to save the barn. The house, however, was burned to the ground. How the fire started is not known.

At 10 o'clock this morning the Catholic Order of Foresters are today holding an important session at the home of the vice chief ranger of the court, Dr. Adelard Payette, 20 James street. The delegates present are as follows: N. V. Marcotte, Boston; Rev. Alfred Carrier, Taunton; Stinson Viger, Lawrence; J. B. N. Souliere, Worcester; J. A. Dauphinais, New Bedford; Dr. Arthur Moll, Cambridge; Joseph Leclerc, Southbridge; Eugene Lapadine, Fall River; J. J. Murphy, South Boston; Camille Champagne, Haverhill; Dr. J. Lamoureux, New Bedford and Dr. Adelard Payette, Lowell.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by Vice Chief Ranger Adelard Payette of Lowell and considerable business of a private nature for the Foresters was transacted. The meeting lasted until 2 o'clock when a dainty dinner was served. The delegates will convene again at 4 o'clock and will remain in session until 8 o'clock when they will attend in a body the public meeting which will be held at C. M. A. C. hall at which time Mr. Arthur Laviole of Court St. Paul will be decorated with a gold medal of the Legion of Honor.

A DISASTROUS FIRE GILLIES DEPOT, Ont. June 6.—Over $150,000 damage has been done in Cobalt by a fire which was suit burning early today, although the firemen believed they had it under control. The fire started in the Lyric theatre during a performance when an oil stove exploded in a dressing room. The theatre was emptied without disorder. No loss of life has been reported. With the collapse of the theatre the flames leaped to the Cabott hotel and thence to other buildings.

CLINTON, June 6.—The services of the metropolitan police to assist the local authorities in maintaining order here were requested today by the town officials. The Clinton authorities believe that the situation resulting from the strike of several hundred operatives in the Lancaster mills has reached a stage beyond the control of the town's police force. The Worcester officers who have been doing patrol work here for several days were recalled by the mayor of that city today.

Several revolver shots were heard before daylight in the vicinity of the great metropolitan dam, which it is alleged the strikers have threatened to dynamite. The police made a thorough investigation but found no traces of suspected persons.

About 150 strikers paraded the streets in the vicinity of the mills, while the other operatives were going to work. There was no disorder. After the parade a mass meeting was held at which it was announced that the executive committee of the strikers was willing to submit the strike matter to the state board of conciliation and arbitration. It is not known whether the mill officials will agree to this.

WATER DEPT. PAYROLL WILL TAKE BIG JUMP

Barrett Says He Could Save Between $15,000 and $20,000 on Pumping Station

The contract for paying blocks for the street department, 11,000 square yards, more or less, has been awarded to the Hildreth Granite company. The bids were opened in the office of Purchasing Agent Faye this forenoon and the Hildreth Granite company's bid, $124 a square yard, was the lowest.

There were two other bidders and their bids were as follows: Lewis Palmer, Graniteville, $137 per square yard and J. O'Mahoney of Lawrence, $134 per square yard.

Busy at New Reservoir The water department payroll will take a big jump this week, a sort of hop, skip and leap, so to speak, and the new reservoir on Centralville heights is responsible for it all. In order to keep well ahead of the contractor doing the concrete work, Commissioner Barrett has had to increase his working force and he has taken on about 50 extra men this week. "In order to be done and I am going to get to the end of it just as quickly as picks and shovels can find the way. I doubt if it will be possible to build the new reservoir within the allotted appropriation, but the new reservoir is not a luxury. It is something that we need and need badly and even if it does exceed the appropriation it will be a good investment for the city."

New Pumping Station a Mistake Commissioner Barrett was not as enthusiastic over the new pumping station and went so far as to say that if he had had the say as to the kind of pumping station he built at the boulevard he would have saved between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars. "I discussed the new pumping station with you a few days ago," said Mr. Barrett to the Sun reporter, "and we spoke of how beautiful it would appear when finished. We didn't discuss its faults, perhaps because it was too beautiful a day to say unkind things about anything or anybody. But the fact remains that the new pumping station is more or less of a mistake. In the first place it should have been built of ordinary brick instead of Naceto hollow tile brick, which, at best, is an experiment here. I have no doubt but that the new pumping station will look very fine but Lowell is not in a position to pay for ornamental buildings at this stage of the game and under present conditions. And, besides, the building was poorly planned. The most important room in the building is the boiler room and a big mistake has been made there. The boilers are sixteen feet long and the tube cleaners, of course, are as long as the boilers. Now the distance from the front of the boiler to the boiler room wall is but eleven feet and in order to work this tube cleaner it will have to be made to double so to speak. The wall should have gone back flush with the chimney. That would provide all the room necessary and the mistakes in this room seem almost unardonable. Besides the room being too small, the boilers are too close together."

"Why didn't you put a stop to all this?" asked the reporter. "Because the work was too far advanced before it appeared on the scene," replied the commissioner.

Can't Stand the Pressure Commissioner Brown says he cannot continue to spend money at the rate he has been going and live within his appropriation. The demand for street work is greater than I can attend to," said Mr. Brown. "I do not blame the public for asking and demanding certain things but I cannot do even as much as I have been doing and live within my appropriation. I have been criticised for not repairing the Moody street bridge. I have not dared to touch the bridge because the city engineer has said that it would require an appropriation of $17,000 to put the bridge in shape. I cannot afford to exceed my appropriation and in order to keep within its limits I will have to curtail."

Sold Special Castings The water department had some special castings to sell and advertised them for sale. This was the day named for the opening of the bids and the Builders Iron Foundry of Providence, R. I. was the only bidder. That company offered $350.00 for the special castings, 68 in all, and they bought something.

Fighting the Moths The park department continues to wage war on the browntail and gypsy moths. The work of extermination is being carried on by the aid of a power sprayer in Belvidere and after the machine has finished there it will move on to Centralville, Pawtucketville and thence to South Lowell where there is a big area to be attended to.

Requests a Postponement The New England Telephone and Telegraph company has asked a postponement of a hearing scheduled for next Tuesday night on the proposed ordinance to have that company and the Lowell Electric Light corporation pay a rental of $5 a year for pole locations and a nominal sum for wire attachments.

Hearing This Afternoon A hearing on the bills of the Boston & Maine railroad for expenses in connection with the abolition of the grade crossings in School and Walker streets is being held this afternoon at the North station in Boston and before the auditor appointed by the court.

LARCENY OF SHOES CHARGED AGAINST LOCAL MERCHANT

Max Schwartz, who conducts a shoe store in Prescott street, was arraigned before Judge Fisher in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of shoes to the value of about $250 from the W. L. Douglas Shoe Co. The goods, it is alleged, having been obtained under false pretence. The defendant, through his counsel, J. J. O'Connor and Frank Goldman, entered a plea of not guilty. The government was represented by J. J. Cummings of Boston and James G. Hill of this city.

The first witness called was Harry Charles Squibb, who conducts a tea business in Prescott street next door to Schwartz's store. He testified to writing letters of a business nature to the Douglas Co. for the defendant, who cannot write, among which was a credit statement.

Albert E. Sweetser of Boston, secretary of the Douglas Co., who swore out the complaint against Schwartz, was next called. He said about Aug. 19, 1911, Schwartz visited him to talk over an order for goods received from the defendant. He said Schwartz told him that if the order was too large to put it down and he did so, he stated that they had a conversation relative to defendant's financial condition and after what was told him he refused to deliver the goods. Later he said he received a letter from Schwartz about his financial condition and consequently he shipped the order to the amount of about $400, half of which was paid for. The letter was offered in evidence but lawyer O'Connor objected on the ground that it was not signed by Schwartz and asked the court to disallow the same. Judge Fisher, however, ruled that inasmuch as the letter was signed in the presence of the defendant and accepted by the same, it was valid and he accepted it.

Mr. Sweetser was then asked several questions as to the way of doing business at the W. L. Douglas Co. and at the noon hour he was still on the witness stand.

Neglected His Wife

Irving C. Moore, who was charged with neglect of wife, entered a plea of guilty and the court ordered him to pay $2 per week for the support of his better half, the money to be paid to the probation officer. The young wife testified that her husband had not contributed a penny toward her support since they were married. She also stated she is not living with him. The young husband, who has not as yet reached his 18th birthday, said his wife forced him to marry her. He said he was willing to help her along, but refused to live with her.

Larceny Charged

Michael Harrington, who was arraigned yesterday afternoon by Lieut. Maher on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $40, denied his guilt this morning and at the request of his attorney, John J. McInerney, the case was continued till Saturday morning.

Assault and Battery

The case of Theodoras Hurasas, charged with assault and battery on Thomas J. Nukos, was continued till Tuesday for sentence after the defendant had pleaded guilty to the complaint.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, P. C. L., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the invaluable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which makes up any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the mercurial wax habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face glowing, looking and healthy. Ordinarily, reddenized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. American women may easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drug stores generally in the United States. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. Abundance is sufficient to completely rejuvenate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and decaying skin which are constantly appearing. —Woman's Herald.

yesterday and was placed in the care of the probation officer for a term of six months. John Conboy admitted being drunk and asked to be sent away. The court acquiesced to his demand by sending him to the state farm at Bridgewater.

EDMOND BELANGER WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF THIS CITY DEAD

Mr. Edmond Belanger, one of the best known residents of this city, died this morning at his late home, 28 Arkwright street, after a lingering illness of several years. Deceased, who was 41 years, 1 month and 1 day old, had been a resident of this city for the past 31 years. For many years he conducted a shoe repairing shop in Bridge street.

He was well known especially in musical circles as he was a violinist, having been conductor of the Orpheus orchestra. He was also connected with the musician's union, Cercle Amical and Union Samuel de Champlain. F. A. Deceased is survived by a wife and three daughters, Alice, Eulandine and Lucienne, two brothers, George of Amesbury and Hector of Acadie, Canada. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Bernadine Tremblay of Amesbury and a large number of other relatives and friends who will deeply feel his loss.

GAME CALLED OFF LOWELL POLICE—LOWELL HIGH CONTEST POSTPONED

The Lowell police-Lowell high ball game scheduled for Washington park this afternoon was called off on account of the rain. The Lowell police will play the Salem police team next week and the locals are out to bring home the bacon. The game will be played in this city.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Lowell Aerle of Eagles was held in Odd Fellows hall in Middlesex street last night. As usual there was a large attendance and considerable business was transacted during the evening. Worthington Patrick McGinnis occupied the chair. Notices were read of the convention to be held at Cleveland, O. next month. W. P. Patrick McGinnis was elected delegate to attend. Brother Bernard Brown was chosen chaplain for the ensuing term. The committee on entertainments gave a very interesting report and the aerle voted to hold a field day on some future date. There were visiting members from Springfield, Waltham, Ayer, Nashua and Cambridge. Three candidates were initiated. The financial secretary, treasurer and board of trustees gave their quarterly reports, which showed a great gain in membership and in the treasury.

Royal Arcanum

The meeting of Industry council, 1722 R. A., was held last night. The recently organized degree staff had an opportunity to demonstrate its worth and did so to the satisfaction of the large representation assembled. The candidate for the exemplification of the ritual was Dr. John T. Donahue, the well known dentist, he having the honor of being the first member to have the degree performed. Four applications were received and will be initiated at some future meeting. Among the visitors present was Supreme Trustee John J. Hogan, who gave a very interesting account of the supreme convention, recently held at

Richmond, Va. After the exercises closed, an entertainment was enjoyed by the members.

Knights of Pythias

The members of Butler Ames company, Knights of Pythias, met last night in regular session. One candidate was admitted and considerable routine business was transacted. The feature of the evening was a banquet tendered to Sir Knight Adelbert Jeffery, who is to leave for Calgary in a few days. Col. Herbert S. Russell complimented the company on the appearance it presented at Salem and tendered the thanks of the Memorial day committee of Salem.

THOMAS DOLIBER DEAD
NEW BEDFORD, June 6.—Thomas Doliber of Brookline, president of the Mellen's Food company of North America died in this city Wednesday night at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. William Robinson, Jr., with whom he had been visiting the past five weeks. Mr. Doliber was 70 years old. The immediate cause of death was heart failure.

THE KASINO

Only the refined gliding dances are permitted on the Kasino floor. People coming to this new amusement resort with the idea that it's a "go as you please" must expect to be disappointed. The management has set a standard, which will be maintained, and the people of Lowell will not fail to appreciate the wholesome amusement afforded by the Kasino in the biggest dancing space in this section and on the smoothest, hardest floor in New England. Dancing sessions are afternoon and evening.

Patrick McCrann Comes Home After 15 Years' Absence

Patrick McCrann, son of Mrs. Mary McCrann of 844 Moody street, this city, and a brother of the famous Larry, who is known on the stage as Prof. Crane, arrived in this city Tuesday after an absence of almost 15 years. He dropped into The Sun office yesterday, not to seek publicity, but to have an article inserted that it is he, and not his brother Larry, who is here. Patrick is the picture of the magician and the reason that he wanted it made known that he is a brother of the popular performer is due to the fact that many people have spoken to him on the streets, calling him Larry, and he overheard several say that "That fellow got awful stuck up lately." "I do not want to injure Larry with his friends here," he said, "for I know he has many, and unless some are told the circumstances they will unjustly turn against him."

While Mr. McCrann was relating his story to a reporter in the office an attaché of the paper, who is well acquainted with the clever magician came in and extending his hand said: "Well, how is the professor?" Without waiting for an answer he continued, "Well, you're looking good. Where have you been?" Finally the speaker was told that the visitor was a brother of the professor. Patrick McCrann left this city first in 1888 and but for a short visit here about 15 years ago has been away until Tuesday, when he came to remain indefinitely. During his absence from Lowell, Mr. McCrann has traveled considerably and has been retired from the United States army, and will receive a pension for the remainder of his life, having completed his term and received an honorable discharge. He is the youngest man to receive a pension from the United States.

Upon leaving Lowell, Patrick, who was then a youngster, had western ideas. He went to Arkansas and became a member of the United States cavalry. During that time there was a great deal of trouble with the Indians in that section. The Apaches were causing great trouble and the cavalry men were sent to quell disturbances. He remained in that vicinity going at times into New Mexico. At that time there was a reward out for the capture, dead or alive, of "Apache Billy, the Kid." Young McCrann was in the troop that was on the desperado's trail and for two and one-half years they chased him, killing about all his followers but after the hunting Billy disappeared and was never again heard of. It is thought that he killed himself.

The Lowell boy then had a short vacation and went to the world's fair at Chicago, after which he visited his parents in this city. He then returned to the regular army and was sent to St. Augustine, Florida. From there he went to Fort McPherson, Georgia, and then to New Orleans. He remained on duty in that section until the Spanish-American war broke out. His regiment was the first to be ordered to Manila and they were sent to Manila, Florida; later he went to Santiago, and he was then placed in command at El Cobre and then moved to El Cobre, where there is trouble at the present time.

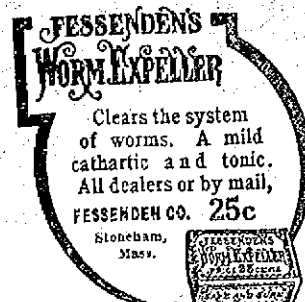

When the army was relieved he was sent to the Philippines and was put in command at La Union province and then at Iliad province. He remained there until 1908, when he completed the required number of years and was retired to receive a pension for the remainder of his life. The cause of his retirement at such an early age is due to the fact that he, as all others, received "double time" for all foreign service.

Mr. McCrann, then went into business in Manila securing the Binondo cafe, one of the best hotels in that city. He became very popular there and met with remarkable success. He also secured holdings in real estate and other enterprises. He finally thought that he would like to visit his home and disposed of the hotel, but still maintains his interests in the real estate.

On his trip homeward he stopped off at New York and visited his sister and brother, Mary and Joseph, who are doing well there. After a short stay in the metropolis he came here and arrived in town Tuesday at 9 o'clock. He went directly to his mother's home in Moody street, where two of his sisters, Katherine and Nora, also reside. He said that his mother received a card from Larry last week and he was then playing in Dublin, Ireland. He has another brother, James, who is now confined at a Boston hospital.

In speaking of the conditions in the Philippines at the present time, Mr. McCrann said that during the years he was located there there was wonderful improvement. "The natives," he said, "are now engaged in the agricultural business and are making great progress along that line. There are many trade schools, commercial schools and domestic schools in Manila and the natives are becoming well educated. Many of them speak excellent English and since the Americans landed there the inhabitants have taken to their ways and now instead of running the streets barefooted and with dresses of calico, mostly all wear shoes and clothes like ours. There is really more prosperity in Manila than any place I have visited.

"The United States government has made a great many improvements there. A large dock has been made where boats may come right up to the land instead of remaining out in the bay. Great agricultural machines have been installed, a new water supply, sewers constructed, streets and parks, new buildings and other general improvements made.

"A Y. M. C. A. building has been erected there for the young natives, and they are taught the American games. They are very enthusiastic over baseball and have a ball league there.

"In the city of Manila there are about 5000 or 6000 Americans who are engaged in government work or control business enterprises. The American people raise sugar cane and are engaged in other agricultural pursuits, and many of them have been very successful, like myself."

Mr. McCrann said that he met several Lowell people while located there, most of whom were youngsters who were in the navy. He said that he liked them very much but is glad to be back among the old folks once again. He expects to remain here indefinitely, but will return there at intervals to look after his property. He left saying: "Don't fail to say I'm not Larry."

LETTER CARRIERS

HAVE NOT DRAWN YET FOR THEIR VACATIONS

The delay in the announcement of the annual vacations of the Lowell letter carriers is due principally to the fact that the postoffice appropriation has not as yet been passed. According to the rules, after the appropriation is voted, the postmaster submits his estimates after which the list is compiled. The fiscal year in the service starts July 1, and generally the vacations start at that time. Unless the bill is soon passed the vacations will start later. At the present time four of the local carriers are on their vacations. These though are ones who were supposed to take their time off last November but preferred to take it at this time and as the month is within the year, Postmaster Legard agreed to accommodate the men.

The mail at the local office is beginning to drop off, there being very noticeable decrease in the past month. Every summer the mail is generally light with the exception of the souvenir postcards which increase in number in the hot weather.

MANY IMMIGRANTS

ARRIVE AT THE NORTHERN STATION EACH DAY

The immigrants continue to come this way and about every day for the past month aliens have arrived in Lowell. Most of them, however, do not remain here, but transfer at the local depot for other parts. A great many of those who have landed in this city have taken trains for different parts of New Hampshire, while many have gone to Lawrence and Haverhill. They come here direct from the old country.

This morning thirty came to this city and after transferring their baggage took trains for Manchester, N. H., and Lawrence, Mass. In this party as well as about all others the greater number are men.

Many Lowell people left the depot today for the beaches along the coast of Maine. A number went to Old Orchard, Wells beach and York to remain for the summer season.

Owing to the heavy traveling the 10:49 train was 40 minutes late this morning.

The traveling on all trains today was reported to be very heavy while the baggage was also very heavy.

Frank Goss, baggage master at the local depot, left Lowell last evening for Springfield, Mass., to attend the convention of the order of Moose, which opened in that city today.

BILLERICA

The Honey Boy minstrels entertained a good sized audience at Thomas Talbot Memorial hall last night. The affair was in aid of the Royal Arcanum Bed association.

The following program was carried out: Joseph M. Donoghue, in character: grand opening overture, entire company; baritone solo, "Your Love is My Paradise," James P. Shugrue; end song, "My Loving Honey Man," C. Austin Carey; tenor solo, "Take Me Back to the Garden of Love," Linwood Knapp; end song, "I'm Going Back to Dixie," Dick Donoghue; tenor solo, "Well Go Back to Erin Some Day," Mayouren; Andrew Doyle; end song, "Mexican Twist," Edward Handley; tenor solo, "Mine," John Wilby; end song, "Briny Dip," George "Babe" Rogers; grand finale, "Three Things I Love," entire company, solo sustained by Arthur Goss.

Pianist, Anna Murphy; musical director, William H. Way.

Dancing followed the entertainment and continued until near midnight.

The officers in charge were: General manager, James J. Campbell; assistant general manager, James H. Gannon; floor director, Edward R. Costello; assistant floor director, Charles Conaway; chief aid, Joseph Morris; aids, James A. Ruth, Joseph P. Meaney, J. Fred Carr, William Costello; treasurer, Joseph Brown.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVALS HELD IN CHURCHES LAST NIGHT

Enjoyable Entertainment Programs Given—Social of Ladies' Benevolent Society

The vestry of the Highland Congregational church was the scene last night of a very enjoyable strawberry festival and entertainment and it was one of the most successful social events in the history of the church. The following committee had charge of the supper and it was an excellent one: Mrs. J. E. Field, chairman; Mrs. Clara Evans, Mrs. C. Marshall Forrester, Miss Flora Foss, Miss Helen Butterick, Mrs. J. E. Cheney, Mrs. G. J. Bradt, Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mrs. C. W. Hoyt, Mrs. F. A. Spear, Mrs. James Webster, Miss Blanche Craven, Miss Staples, Miss Minnie Coburn, Mrs. C. E. Whitely, Mrs. E. W. David, Mrs. E. W. Fuller and Mrs. Fred Bryant.

At 5 o'clock an entertainment, consisting of tableaux interspersed with songs by an excellent quartet was given, the musical accompaniment to the tableaux being played by the Sunday school orchestra of the Calvary Baptist church in a most enjoyable manner. The program and cast were as follows:

I. A one act comedy entitled "A Picked Up Dinner," a very laughable little comedy in which considerable fun was gotten out of the dinner mishaps of Mrs. Thompson, played by Mrs. Percy Wilson; her husband, Mr. Thompson, played by Irving D. Kimball, and their maid, Biddy, played by Mrs. C. W. Hoyt.

II. Tableau, "The Fortune Teller," in two scenes acted by Miss Eva Craven and Miss Helen Barrett.

III. Tableau, "The Pitched Battle," in two scenes, acted by Miss Hazel Stevens and Miss Winifred Webster.

IV. Tableau, "Tenting Tonight," acted by Reginald Rhodes, Rodman Cheney, William Ingham and James Bradley.

V. Tableau, "Snow Birds," acted by Miss Dorothy Spooner, Miss Virginia Sargent and Miss Vera McKenzie.

VI. Tableau, "Ceres and the Seasons," Miss Elizabeth Adams acting the part of Ceres, Miss Ethel Lombard that of Spring, Miss Mabelle Rogers that of Summer, Miss Pearl Aulet that of Autumn, and Miss Pearl Ellis that of Winter.

VII. Tableau, "The Mother's Dream," in two scenes, Miss Lisa Cutler acting the part of the mother; Miss Louise Bancroft, that of the angel, and Miss Dorothy Spooner and Miss Hazel McKenzie those of the children.

VIII. Tableau, "Flora's Garden," Miss Helen Hill acting the part of Flora; Howard Ingham, that of the bluebell; Paul McGregor, that of the cowslip; Miss Marie McPherson, that of the peony; Rodman Cheney, that of the pink, and Winthrop Bean, that of the snowdrop.

IX. Tableau, "The Vacant Chair," with a song accompaniment by the quartet, the part of the wife being acted by Miss Lisa Cutler.

X. Tableau, "Christmas Eve," the parts of the children being acted by Winifred Webster and Miss Virginia Sargent, and that of the fairy by Miss Helen Hill.

XI. Tableau, "Winter," acted by Miss Lisa Cutler, Winthrop Bean and Charles Forrest.

XII. Song by the quartet.

The tableaux were all gotten up in an excellent manner, the costumes were appropriate and pretty, and the presentation all that could be desired. The whole entertainment was excellent and much enjoyed by the large audience which witnessed it, the vestry being filled to overflowing.

The orchestra was composed of the following: First violins, Miss Mary D. Smith, Harold W. Downs and Clifton Harrison; clarinet, C. M. Cushman; cornet, G. V. Parkhurst; piano, Miss Sarah F. Clement; leader, C. M. Cushman.

The quartet was composed of the following: First tenor, Edward R. Wirt; second tenor, E. Roswell Wirt; first bass, Horatio Leggat, and second bass, T. Parkinson.

The supper table was in charge of Mrs. F. H. Haynes, many pretty and useful aprons being on display at her table.

The candy and refreshment table was in charge of the boy scouts.

Ladies' Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's M. E. church gave a strawberry festival in the church vestry last night. There were other good things besides and the berries were served in a variety of ways.

Following the supper, an entertainment was given under the direction of Mrs. Joseph W. Richardson. The program was as follows:

Piano solo, Esmond Senior; song, "Little Johnny Green Comes to Town," members of the primary department; banjo solo, Wesley Boynton; "Little Boy Scouts," Randolph Cady, Esmond Senior and Donald Farrington; pantomime, "Eight Little Grandmothers," Ruth Butler, Louise Drew, Gertrude Sherlock, Harriet Griffiths, Ethel O'Brien, Ellen Shepard, Eulla Woodward and Edna MacShane. The "Little Johnny Green" number had to be repeated, it created so excellent an impression.

Mrs. J. Clark Glidden had general charge of the supper, and her assistants were: Mrs. Edwin Cleworth, Mrs. Ada Martin, Mrs. White, Mrs. Fred Brooks, Mrs. George McKewin, Mrs. F. L. Richardson, Mrs. Alce Campbell, Mrs. Coburn, Mrs. Walter Cleworth, and Mrs. William D. Brown. The ice cream was served under the direction of the members of the H. W. H. class, and Miss Emma Drew's class had charge of the candy table. The T. M. T. M. club had charge of the cake table.

First Trinitarian Church

was held in the church vestry last night. The dining-room was in charge of Mrs. George R. Ellingwood and Mrs. Marie. The waitresses were: Misses Fannie Murphy, Rose Kall, Anna Kall, Lillian Hines, Anna Gwynne, Mildred Fay, Elizabeth Tiffany, Elizabeth Dykes, Bertha George, Mabelle Sullivan and Florence Dole.

A cantata, "Cinderella in Flowerland," given by members of the Sunday school and under the personal supervision of Miss Mabel Clavin, was a pleasant feature of the evening. The cast of characters was as follows: "Daisy," Isabelle Roy, proud sisters, "Hollyhock," Florence Cutting, and "Tiger Lily," Bessie Ranlett; "God-mother Nature," Eva Henderson; "Bonnie Bee," Rosalie Perley; "Butterflies," Margaret Smith and Annie Thomas; "Robin Red," Agnes Jeyes; "Prince Sunshine," Marie Spaulding; "Poppy," Eva McCarthy; "Buttercup," Grace Wilson; "Pansy," Elsie Rollins; "Daffodil," Evelyn Wilson; "Violet," Mary Marshman; "Sweet Briar," Gretchen Pickering; "Mignonne," Agnes Jeyes; "Lily Bell," Gladys McCloughery; "Sweet Pea," Marion Shelters; "Narcissus," Hazel Smith; six little sunbeams, Frances Thomas, Alice Savard, Lillian Kilpatrick, Mildred Kilpatrick, Mabel Thomas and Beatrice Crawford; six little raindrops, Walter Jeyes, Charles Stanton, Clifford Farley, Frances Graves, Frances Gillespie

and Mabel Stanton. Miss Marion Clogston was the accompanist.

Pawtucket Congregational Church. A strawberry festival was held last night at the Pawtucket Congregational church and it was well attended. The following after supper entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed:

Songs, Mr. Johnson; readings, Mrs. Belle Harrington Hall; violin selections, Zephyr Bissnette. Carl Mason was the accompanist of the evening. The supper was in charge of Mrs. George Ansart and the entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. James McKinley and Mrs. O. R. Park.

Supper and Entertainment

The regular monthly social, supper

and entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the First Congregational church, given in the vestry last night, was attended by a large number of members of the parish. Supper was served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock, and later in the evening an entertainment was given.

Those in charge of the supper were: Mrs. Albert Humphreys, Mrs. Fred Mill, Mrs. Walter Hunt, Mrs. Mary Williams, Mrs. Ada Sanborn, Mrs. William Means, Mrs. J. T. Rexford, Mrs. Edward Fletcher, Mrs. Albert Storum, Mrs. Lorenzo Smith, Mrs. Leathers, Mrs. W. Atwood and Miss Clara Saunders.

The entertainment, a flag drill, with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," was given under the direction of Mrs. Charles Goggin, and those who participated in it were: Misses Annie Fletcher, Geneva Hanson, Gladys Bigelow, Lorene Burns, Marion Tinker, Helen Pickles, Gladys and Mildred Dubois, Alice Grand, Elizabeth Fulton, Thien Morrill, Helen Osgood, Florence Brooks. Miss Winifred Goggin was accompanist of the evening.

VAUGHN PARDON PETITION HEARD BY THE COUNCIL

Prominent Citizens Favored Pardon But Patrolman Healy Opposed the Petition

As stated in yesterday's Sun the pardon committee of the governor's council gave a hearing yesterday afternoon on the petition of the pardon of Olan Vaughn convicted with his brother, Robert, of having shot Patrolman John E. Healy of this city. The petition was strongly opposed by Officer Healy, who said he regarded Vaughn a dangerous man. William A. Hogan conducted the case for the petitioners, and Mrs. Vaughn, mother of the prisoner was the first witness.

She said that she had had five children, of whom the two boys now confined are all that are left. Since the death of the other members of the family, Mrs. Vaughn said, she had been all alone in the world, and has washed, ironed, lived in an attic room and worked in the mill in her efforts to keep alive and to secure the release of her younger boy from prison.

Mrs. Vaughn said Olan was between 17 and 18 years of age when the crime was committed; she said he was always a good-natured boy, and she had never seen him mad. Robert, on the other hand, had run away from home when he was 15 years old and went to Pennsylvania, where he was sentenced to serve a term of five years for complicity in a robbery, and he returned to Lowell only about three weeks before this crime was committed.

She said she has tried to visit Olan once each month since he has been in prison, and has frequently talked with him about securing his liberty. She said he has never expressed any animosity for Officer Healy, and prefers not to talk about the case. She said her brother has offered to secure him a position in a shoe shop in New Hampshire, where he can secure from $15 to $25 a week, and if he is pardoned it is their intention to go at once to New Hampshire to live. She said Olan would not think of going to Lowell, as he desires to forget all about his former associations there.

Judge Hadley

Judge Samuel P. Hadley strongly urged a pardon for Vaughn and said he was satisfied that Olan was influenced by his brother Robert.

"If the probation system had been in vogue then," said Judge Hadley, "Olan would never have been sentenced to life imprisonment, and my opinion is that it is not here to minimize the crime, not at all, but I do say that having served 13 years, he is entitled to his freedom. After all, the real purpose of punishment is to reform the criminal, and only when it is shown that a criminal is beyond reformation are we justified in banishing him from society. For that reason, I feel that Olan Vaughn has been punished sufficiently."

Supl. Welch of the police department, ex-Mayor Meahan, Dr. P. J. Meahan, ex-Sen. Hubbard, Peter F. Conaton, License Commissioner John J. Mullaney, Senator Barlow and Rep. John E. Kearns all spoke in favor of the Vaughn, saying that they considered Vaughn had been punished sufficiently. Letters were read from former district attorney Fred N. Wier giving a history of the case, from former Supt. Moffatt, favoring a pardon, Amrose C. Dearborn, a member of the jury that convicted Vaughn, saying the jury would have recommended mercy for Olan Vaughn had it been possible, and from Chairman Pettigrove of the prison commission, saying that Vaughn's conduct in prison has been perfect.

Patrolman Healy

Patrolman Healy stated that he was firmly opposed to a pardon being granted. He said the record of the case as written by Mr. Wier omits the fact that he was struck over the head twice, presumably with the butt of a revolver, and that he also got a black eye. Questioned by a member of the council, he admitted that it was Robert Vaughn who hit him, but said Olan stood over him at the time, pointing a gun at him, while Robert urged his brother to "put another pill into him."

He said the brothers took his watch and chain, and $50 in money.

He said he is carrying a bullet today from the revolver of Olan Vaughn, this being in his thigh while Robert Vaughn fired at him. He declared his belief that his life would be in jeopardy if Olan were to be let out of prison.

At the conclusion of the hearing the executive council held an executive session and tried to have Officer Healy withdraw his objection to the granting of the pardon, but he positively refused, and the matter went over for one week.

The Thursday evening concert by the orchestra will be resumed at the Vesper Country club this evening and will continue on Thursdays throughout the season.

JOHN B. HURTUBISE

FORMER RESIDENT OF THIS CITY

DIED IN WINNIPEG

The many friends of Mr. John B. Hurtubise of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and formerly of this city, will be pained to learn of his death which occurred last night at his late home in Winnipeg. Deceased was 55 years of age and was favorably known in Lowell, where he lived for thirty-five years previous to his removal to the northwest about seven years ago.

Mr. Hurtubise was a printer by trade and while in this city was connected with many newspapers, including the Vox Populi, The News, and The Sun, as well as L'Abelle, a French weekly which he published for a number of years. He counted a large number of friends in Lowell as well as in Canada and his demise will be keenly felt by all who knew him. For he was a man of pleasing disposition and good habits. He is survived by a wife and a daughter, Mrs. George Lacroix of Tisdale, Saskatchewan; a mother, Mrs. F. X. Hurtubise of Jansville, Wis.; two brothers, F. X. A. Hurtubise of this city, and Marcell of Chicago; two sisters, Mrs. George Foster of Jansville, Wis., and Mrs. Frank W. Kennedy of Nashua, N. H. He was a member of L'Union St. Joseph of this city. The remains will be brought to Lowell for burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

WOMAN IS MADE SANE

A Bone Was Removed From Her Skull

LYNN, June 6.—A delicate operation on the skull has brought Mrs. Grace L. Warren of Lynn, whose escapades while an inmate of the Danvers insane hospital attracted much attention, from mental illness back to her normal self. The operation was performed recently at Danvers by Drs. C. D. E. Lovell and George H. Gray of Lynn. A piece of the skull three and one-half inches long and one-half inch wide was removed successfully that Mrs. Warren recovered consciousness without experiencing so much as a headache. She is rapidly recovering and expresses a feeling of great relief since the operation.

Mrs. Warren is 34 years old and the wife of Alfred Warren of 24 Elm street, Lynn. He is her second husband. In 1899 her first husband, Edgar Statham of Wakefield, shot her at their home in that town. She was wounded badly, but the bullet did not penetrate her brain and she recovered. Statham was sentenced to a term in state prison.

After her second marriage Mrs. Warren's mind became deranged. She had been reading books on occult science, and became convinced that she was the spiritual wife and would eventually become the real wife of Prof. Grumbine, whose pupil she had had been. Prof. Grumbine, Mrs. Warren's friends say, is a lecturer, exponent of universal religion, and leader of a cult known as the "Order of the White Rose."

Mrs. Warren also became addicted to inhaling ether, having read that this would strengthen within her the power of clairvoyance she wished to develop. She had many strange hallucinations, and often would inhale ether until she would lose consciousness. Finally she was committed to the Danvers asylum.

WILSON MEN

IN CONTROL OF THE NORTH CAROLINA CONVENTION

RALEIGH, N. C., June 6.—The state democratic convention was held here today. Apparently the Woodrow Wilson forces were in complete control and they said they would elect their four delegates at large. Underwood supporters, backed by followers of other candidates, urged an unqualified delegation.

How One Woman Saves Expense

One woman at least in this city has found a remedy for the high cost of living. Instead of buying her soaps, toilet articles, foodstuffs, sewing supplies, stationery and other household supplies at the store and paying big prices for them, she buys them direct from the manufacturer, by the Larkin "Factory-to-Family" plan. What she saves in this way (and it is usually one-half the cost of the article) is returned to her by the Larkin Co. in the form of extra products. In this way she gets $2.00 worth of household supplies for every dollar she spends. This plan can be used by any woman just as successfully as it is by her. It means a saving of one dollar, two dollars, or three dollars a week, according to the amount of household supplies you use. Write to the Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., for their large Catalog R25. It explains this "Factory-to-Family" method of dealing and describes the various products (over 500 in number) which the Larkin Co. makes.

The local papers all have called on Breen to resign, but the city officials have taken no step to relieve of his post the man who was convicted of a felony. Tuesday night the Ministers' association voted to demand a recall action against Breen.

DIAMOND RING

WAS FOUND IN THE GILLS OF A FISH

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Howard E. Buseby, a fish dealer, discovered this morning a fish wearing a diamond ring in its gills. Mr. Buseby was sorting the fish from several barrels received from Anglesea when he noticed an odd bulge in the gills of one and tossed it aside as "defective." Later he examined the "defective" and found the diamond ring. He has sent word to Anglesea and if the original owner of the ring can prove his claim he can have the jewel.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL EQUIPMENT

School Board Was Told
That More is Needed
for the Pupils

A conference having to do with the industrial school was held in Supt. Whitcomb's office Tuesday night. Present at the conference were members of the school board; Supt. Whitcomb, Principal Irish of the High school, Principal Dooley of the Industrial school, Carl Burr of the High school, Charles R. Allen, representing the state board of education, and former Deputy Commissioner Charles A. Prosser. The latter had no official connection with the conference but came through friendship and upon invitation of Supt. Whitcomb.

The industrial school, as is pretty well known, is a state aided school and if the school could continue to go along with the same number of pupils as at present, about 150 in all, last night's conference would have been unneeded for but the demand is so great that the board will have to make room for more pupils. The boys of this term will be "second termers" next year, and a year later there will be first, second and third year boys. The number of pupils will be more than doubled in the fall and the state will not continue its partnership in the school unless equipment is provided for the use of the extra pupils. The school committee wanted to have Mr. Allen say just what would be necessary in the line of extra equipment, machinery, tools, etc., but he said it would be impossible to state just what would be necessary or what the exact cost would be. He allowed, however, that the extra equipment would cost between $500 and $75000.

Mr. Allen said that the state board was perfectly well satisfied with work of the Lowell Industrial school. He said that the school has made wonderful progress and the state was anxious to help the good work along. All that is necessary, he said, will be for the city to supply the necessary equipment and the state will continue to do its part. With the prospective growth of the school under consideration, it was suggested that a new building be erected to meet the ever increasing demand of the young people. Messrs. Allen and Prosser gave valuable suggestions but the school board did not connect itself on the building proposition but there was a general understanding that an effort would be made to provide necessary space and equipment.

CHARLES T. MCKENZIE
Chairman of Committee on Industrial School

BARNES BILL SUBSTITUTED FOR GOVERNOR'S PLAN

Relative to Railroad Legislation—
Bills the Governor Wants the Legislature to Pass.

BOSTON, June 6.—Both branches of the legislature held regular sessions at the state house yesterday afternoon, but the date of promulgation is still somewhat doubtful. The senate substituted the Barnes railroad bill for the compulsory electrification bill in an attempt to meet the wishes of the governor.

The bill does not go as far as the governor desired and the advocates of such important legislation as the western trolley merger and the Grand Trunk bills are still a bit nervous.

If the governor should veto these measures because the legislature does not give him all he wanted in a new transportation commission there will undoubtedly be a collision of forces to put the measures over the veto.

The senate concurred with the house in passing over the governor's veto the Fall River "Brightman street" bridge bill, by a vote of 23 to 7. The house vote was 135 to 55. The senate also concurred with the house in passing the Newburyport bridge bill over the veto by 25 to 5. The house vote was 161 to 48. Both measures transfer to the state the care and maintenance of these bridges and are now law.

At a brief forenoon session the house concurred in all the senate amendments to the Grand Trunk bill. The engrossers worked on the measure all the afternoon and the bill will be enacted in the house and senate today and sent to the governor.

Here is what the governor has asked the legislature to pass at this juncture and on the passage of which he says the fate of important pending railroad bills depends:

A bill increasing the number of railroad commissioners from three to five, creating a new board to be known as the public transportation commission.

The granting to this new commission of mandatory powers over rates and service instead of the present recommendation powers enjoyed by the railroad commission.

The transfer to this new commission of the supervision of the telephone and telegraph business now reported in the highway commission.

The electrification of railroads within the Metropolitan district.

The construction of a system of tunnels connecting the North and South stations, to be constructed by the city of Boston, if it so elects, or by the state.

Permission to the new commission to employ counsel.

What Barnes' Bill Gives

The Barnes bill reported yesterday and used as a substitute for the compulsory electrification bill pending in the senate moves the governor this extent. It provides for:

ferred to the ways and means committee, which committee will immediately report favorably on it.

The democratic senators got after the Barnes bill strongly, some opposing it largely because it did not give the governor what he wanted in enlarging the railroad commission or the transfer of telephone supervision. Others, rallied by Senator Lonsbury, voted against it because he said it imposed a great burden on Boston in compelling the municipality to construct the tunnel.

The Barnes bill, as the governor's informal bill of three days ago, provides for a referendum to the people of Boston. In the division of the 14 democratic senators 10 recorded themselves against the Barnes bill (three on pairs) and four for the bill (Powers, Tully, Joyce and Hunt).

Amendments Rejected

The whole day was spent on this bill. Various amendments were offered but only those acceptable to the drafters of the Barnes bill went through. Senator Quigley made an attempt to amend by providing for an enlarged railroad commission and the transfer of telephone supervision. It was rejected, 4 to 15, and there was no roll-call.

Sensor Lonsbury moved to strike out the provisions as to the construction of tunnels, which was defeated, 10 to 25.

Sensor Allen proposed that one of the attorney general's assistants should act as counsel for the commission at a salary of $5000. This was rejected. An amendment offered by Senator Newhall that the provisions of the bill should not be retroactive and should not affect findings and decisions of the railroad commission already made, was adopted. An amendment offered by Senator Schofield that all railroad officials, employees and subordinates shall be required to obey all orders of the railroad commission was also adopted.

Sensor Morgan's proposal that agreement, lease or contract for the use of the tunnel shall be entered into by the joint boards for a term exceeding 25 years was rejected by 11 to 15. The Barnes bill, as amended, was then substituted and sent to the ways and means committee.

MRS. GREATON'S AWFUL EXPERIENCE

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Natick, Mass. — "I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. MARION SWEET GREATON, No. 1 Jefferson St., Natick, Mass.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-Page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it to-day. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

The assessors are awaiting the city solicitor's opinion relative to the legal status of the board at the present time. Mr. Daniel E. Hogan was elected some time ago to the board of assessors. It was generally supposed that he was elected to succeed Mr. Abbott but it was not stated in the motion when Mr. Hogan was to succeed and just for that Mr. Abbott allows that he is still an assessor and he is doing business at the old stand. The city solicitor has been asked for an opinion in the matter and it was thought that the opinion would have been forthcoming yesterday, but the solicitor has been very busy with court cases.

The city solicitor said today that he would have the opinion ready for the municipal council at its meeting scheduled for Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock. "I would have had the opinion ready for the council yesterday," said Mr. Hogan, "but for the fact that I have been very busy with court cases and other matters that demanded immediate attention."

In the meantime the work is piling up in the office of the board of assessors and they really don't know what to do about it. There are four assessors at the present time, and, according to law, that number is not a legal one. The law says that the number of assessors must be either three, five, seven or nine. This rather complicates matters and the business of the assessors' office is being somewhat delayed. It is generally expected, too, that whatever the opinion of the city solicitor the matter will be ironed out in the courts.

SCORES ANOTHER KNOCKOUT IN NEW YORK BOUT

Johnny Boyle of this city, better known as Young Boyle, the boxer, continues his winning streak in New York. Johnny met John Kelly at the Garden A. C. Monday night and knocked out his man in the fourth round. Kelly is considered a clever boy by New Yorkers and his defeat by the Lowell lad in such quick order has made Young Boyle a great favorite. Next Saturday night at the Fairmount A. C., New York, Young Boyle will meet Johnny Warren who is hailed as a star.

BUILDING PERMITS

ISSUED BY THE INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS TODAY

Edgar H. Barker has planned a beautiful residence in Mt. Hope street and a permit for the erection of it was issued at the office of the inspector of buildings at city hall yesterday. The building will be 36 by 35 feet, two and one-half stories and will have an ell 5 1/2 feet by 25 feet. The estimated cost is $7000.

Another permit issued at the office of the inspector of buildings this forenoon went to Dr. Joseph J. Devine for a dwelling at 27 Parkview avenue. The building will be 24 by 20 1/2 feet, two stories, and the estimated cost is $2000.

IS RECOVERED

SMALLPOX PATIENT HAS BEEN DISCHARGED FROM HOSPITAL

The smallpox patient who was removed to the contagious hospital in Chelmsford street, a few weeks ago, was discharged yesterday. The board of health at the time of his commitment was afraid that other cases would be heard from but it proved that his was a lone case.

There have been thirty-seven cases of measles reported at the office of the board of health since June 1 and eight of the thirty-seven cases were reported within the last day or two. The board, however, feels that the measles are on the wane.

BISHOP ANDERSON

CONFIRMED A CLASS AT ST. COLUMBA'S CHURCH

Very Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, of Boston administered the sacrament of confirmation to a large class of children at St. Columba's church yesterday. The services were held at three o'clock and there was a large congregation present in the church. The children made a very beautiful appearance, the girls dressed in white with veils and wreaths and the boys wearing dark suits. During the confirmation the bishop was assisted by Rev. John Degan. At the close of the service Bishop Anderson spoke to the children on loyalty to the church. He told them that as they were now soldiers of God, to be ever ready to defend their religion and live up to the teachings of the church.

Confirming the opinion we have repeatedly given for months—to buy for present use only, and not stock up at the prevailing prices, as there would be plenty of coal for next winter's use, notwithstanding the attempted ill-advised scare to the contrary—we now offer you the best freshly mined coal for prompt delivery at these prices.

BOXING, GOLF

THE LOWELL BALL TEAMReceived in Trade for Cooney—
He Will Receive Check for $50 Saturday

Bill Cooney, shortstop for the Lowell team, was last night traded to the Haverhill team for Eddie McGamwell, the star first baseman of the cellar champions. McGamwell is one of the best players in the league. At first he has no superior on the circuit and at the but he is above them. Manager Gray tried to get McGamwell last season, but was unsuccessful. He resolved to secure him this season if possible, and it is understood that along with Cooney a cash consideration was received by Haverhill.

McGamwell on his last appearance in this city, on May 25th, hit the ball in right field, with a fairly batted ball and was to be presented a check for $50 today. The presentation has been postponed until Saturday of this week, when he will receive it as a member of the Lowell team. The check arrived in this city today and was placed on exhibition in the window of the Caldwell & Robbins store in Merrimack street. The first time that McGamwell steps to the plate Saturday he will receive the "little paper" calling for fifty bucks.

McGamwell will appear in the Lowell lineup today, playing first. Miller, who has played second, will be shifted to that position, and Nye or Loewen will play in the short field.

LOWELL LOST TO
HAVERHILL, 7 TO 6

Tall Grass in Field Responsible for Defeat

HAVERHILL, June 6.—Haverhill and Lowell met in this city yesterday afternoon and the home team won by the score of 7 to 6. Lowell had the game well at hand, but the members of last year's champions were not as well acquainted with the grounds, and as general balls were hit by Haverhill into the tall grass in the outfield and another overthrow to first got lost in the hay the Haverhill team got away with the victory on Duke plays.

Maybom started to pitch for Lowell for six innings and was relieved by Wolfgang, who pitched good ball until the last inning when his overthrow into the grass resulted in two runs being scored and gave Haverhill the game. Cooney was the hitting star of the game, getting three out of four times up, one a two bagger.

Olympic Shot Put Event

Columbia university is again making itself felt in intercollegiate athletics. Yorker succeeded in tossing the iron disc, and the wearers of the light blue and white expect to cut a wide swath in the meets next year. Right now the undergraduates are greatly elated by the wonderful performance of Russell L. Beatty, who smashed the intercollegiate record for the shot put in Philadelphia recently. The giant New Yorker succeeded in tossing the iron disc the hitherto unreach distance of 48 feet 10 1/2 inches, bettering his former mark by three and three-eighths inches. Beatty's rise has been meteoric, and it looks now as though he, with Pat McDonald and Ralph Rose, would sweep this weight event at the Olympic games.

HARD TO KEEP SOME BALL PLAYERS IN CONDITION

"Ball players have no idea about how to fit themselves for hard work," says the trainer of a big league team. "They eat too much, smoke too much and do not cool out properly after a game. Imagine a player cutting out meat and vegetables and eating pastry three times a day! Pie for breakfast is a new one on me, yet I know of at least one man who never goes without several pieces of pie each day. Cigarettes and cigars are used without discretion, which makes the players short winded and also affects their eyes. Some of them are in such a hurry to get away from the grounds that they hustle their clothes on without stopping perspiration and then go into the street to have their limbs stiffened by cold winds. In my opinion ball players should be trained like all classes of athletes—fighters, runners, football players and oarsmen. But it's hard to convince them. They seem to know it all and regard a trainer as a nuisance."

Baseball men say that the only trainer who exercises absolute authority is the colored man employed by the Giants. McGraw backs him up to the limit and is ready to punish members of the team who do not obey him. The result is that the Giants are fit all the time.

ACCIDENT VICTIM
LIVED IN LOWELL TO EVICT FAMILIES OF MILL STRIKERS

Nuttall's Relatives Get
News of His Death

Robert Nuttall, the Lowell boy who was fatally injured by being run over by a train near Morgan City, La., resided at 72 Chapel street, this city. The family has received several letters containing details of the accident, one of which was from Rev. A. Souby, pastor of the Catholic church at Morgan City, is particularly interesting and consoling to his relatives and friends here. The priest writes that he was on his way home from a nearby mission when he learned of the accident and he hastened to see the young man. The latter informed the priest he was a Catholic and Fr. Souby administered the last rites of the Catholic church. "He was conscious all the time," the priest writes, "and prayed fervently. There was not the least sign of liquor on him, and he appeared a clean, upright young man. He did not want his family to know of the accident, but I prevailed on him to let me know where he came from and finally he did."

More than usual interest was manifested in this case by the citizens of this place, as young Nuttall from his appearance and demeanor inspired those who saw him, as not being of that class of railroad riders that usually infect towns along the main line.

JOHNNY KILBANE WON
FROM TOMMY O'TOOLEThe Champion Loafed
for Six Rounds

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—It was not until the last minute of the sixth round that Johnny Kilbane, the champion, had any decided advantage over Tommy O'Toole of this city at the National A. C. last night. After making a rushing lead, O'Toole turned to get away from Kilbane, following him up, quickly planted a left and right to the face and O'Toole took the count of nine in a neutral corner.

Up to that time, all the leading had been done by Tommy, and as it takes two to make a fight there was not as much action as the crowd desired. Kilbane showed no disposition to do any more work than necessary, and the crowd that saw the bout wondered how it was that Kilbane got away with the fight.

Not even in the sixth did Kilbane show any desire to cut loose and take a chance, until O'Toole, falling short with a lead, turned to get out of a corner, and then Kilbane, following him up, planted right and left to the jaw before Tommy could get up his guard.

O'Toole went down as much surprised as hurt and was up at the count finishing out the round with a cinch.

WELLS DISAPPOINTED

NEW YORK, June 6.—Matt Wells, England's lightweight champion, knew he was in a fight when the final gong sounded last night at the Royal A. C. in Brooklyn. Wells, who expected to meet a lemon in Young Brown, was badly disappointed. He accounted for something that Leuch Cross, Mackey McFarland or Knockout Brown couldn't do. He knocked down the Englishman flat on his back in the first round with a left hook to the chin. Wells was weak and tired at the end.

George Kirkwood outpointed Mike Malla of Boston last night in their 10-round bout before a large crowd at the Sharkey A. C.

FORCED OUT

The Regal Jewelry Co. of 156 Merrimack street, also of Fall River, Marlboro and Berlin, N. H., has been leased out of its local store, and must quit the premises by July 1, 1912.

This company has built up a very fine trade through fair and courteous business dealings and it is very unfortunate that it is compelled to vacate as it has a finely fitted up store and just laid plans to remodel the store front.

Mr. H. I. Magill, the general manager, is in the city looking for a new location, which he hopes to have possession of within a few months.

The entire stock of almost $20,000 of merchandise will be sold at auction commencing Friday afternoon, June 7, and ending Saturday night, June 8, 1912.

Mr. G. E. McDuffee will be the auctioneer.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The O. M. C. Cadet team will journey to Haverhill Saturday and cross bats with the strong Tiger A. C. Cadet players are requested to report at the immaculate Conventual school hall, Thursday evening at 7:30.

The regular Graniteville team is without a game for next Saturday, June 8, and would like to hear from some strong club for a game on the home grounds for the above date. Lincolns of Lowell, Brookside of Dracut, T. R. & T's or any of the fast ones. Address, R. J. Hemen, Graniteville, Mass.

THE PROGRESSIVES

TO SEND A PROTESTING DELEGATION TO CHICAGO

DENVER, Colo., June 6.—Three hundred progressive republicans of Colorado in convention here last night elected a protesting delegation to the national republican convention at Chicago. The meeting memorialized the national convention to seat the delegation and expressed itself in favor of Theodore Roosevelt but did not instruct the delegation to vote for him.

About ten counties of the state were represented.

French Fighters Are Very Game
Show Great Change in 10 Years

Ten years ago the Frenchman was still supposed to be physically and morally incapable of learning to "fight like a Christian" (to quote the quaint phrase used by a worthy of the old prize ring) and when a little later to be cultivated in Paris it was possible for the foreign critic to contemplate the first products of the new cult with mingled amusement and amazement. Yet there was no reason in the nature of things why a race which had always excelled in the art of the sword should not also distinguish itself in the ring. The characteristic qualities of the successful fencer—the compact physique of the round headed, footwork accurate timing, the ability to judge distance, the harmony of hand and eye and a reserve of nervous energy—are equally valuable in the modern game of boxing, while the compact physique of the round headed, short necked French athlete and his unconquerable courage obviously provided him with the capacity of withstanding punishment.

It was soon evident that the deficiencies of the first French boxers were merely the result of a lack of scientific training. As to their possession of the physical and moral standard (there is really no such thing as a merely physical courage) known as a "bottom spirit" to the old fashioned pugilists, there was no doubt whatever. They could endure an intolerable deal of pounding. As a rule, it required a knockout to extinguish the smile which they wore on entering the ring. American boxers' invasion of Paris provided the expert teaching required, the result is seen today in the appearance of a group of skillful and hard hitting French pugilists whose style is in most cases a blend of American and English methods. A few of them adopt the so called American crouch, which, as the annals of the old prize ring clearly show, is actually of English origin. But the best of them can only be called "Americanized" in the sense that they attack in two places, paying as much attention to an opponent's body as to his head, whereas the point of the chin is the chief objective of attack with nearly all English boxers. All or nearly all of them have the "punch."

This is striking proof that the French style is excellent in an essential point which is too often ignored by English teachers of boxing. The faculty of hitting hard is not an in-explicable gift of the gods; it is the result of proper balancing of the body which admits of the constant use of leg drive, which counts for as much in boxing as in rowing.

GIANTS ON SOX PITCHING STAFF

The measurements of the Chicago Americans' pitchers show the average size to be greater probably than that of any other club in the major leagues. It is doubtful if any other club can show a taller assemblage of siabmen than that exhibited by President Comiskey of the White Sox in 1912.

Here are the White Sox pitchers and their measurements, showing them to be a team of physical giants:

Ed Walsh—Height, 6 feet 1 inch; weight, 193 pounds; heaviest fungo hitter in baseball and one of the greatest speed merchants in the game.
Jimmy Scott—Height, 6 feet 1 1/2 inches; weight, 187 pounds.
Joe Benz—Height, 6 feet 1 1/2 inches; weight, 196 pounds. One of the strongest ball players in the major leagues.
Rube Peters—Height, 6 feet; weight, 185 pounds.
George Mogridge—Height, 6 feet 1 inch; weight, 178 pounds.
Doc White—Height, 6 feet; weight, 160 pounds.
Frank Lange—Height, 5 feet 10 inches; weight, 185 pounds.

ALL PITCHERS HAVE THEIR OFF DAYS

Just why pitchers of great ability are frequently pounded to all corners of the lot even though they apparently have everything that goes to make them winners is one of the unexplainable freaks of the game.

Some days it is impossible for a pitcher to keep the ball away from the opponents' bats, may he try ever so hard, while on other days when he is in absolutely no form he is not hit at all. It is these uncertainties that do much to keep baseball supporters on the keen edge.

(HENRY F. CARR, Prop.)
92-98 Gorham St., Near Postoffice

This is the month of marriages and also that of Wedding Gifts, and if you happen to be numbered among those who, this month, will give a gift, you are just the one who should read this advertisement and note carefully the saving which can be had on every article.

This is my first June in my new store and I want to make it my big month. I know that this can only be accomplished by giving the best furniture which can be procured at a price far below that which other dealers are asking for the same make of goods.

Below I mention a few of the many bargains which can be found here:

BRASS BEDS, usually sold for $35.00. Carr's price $25.00. These are good heavy beds, made of solid material, are ornamental and will enhance any chamber.

ELEGANT PICTURES—A complete line of beautiful pictures which would make ideal wedding gifts, which are priced at $4.00. I could show you exact duplicates in other stores which are marked $5.00 and $5.50.

ROCKERS—The summer is high and you will need one of these to place on the veranda or close to the window so that you can enjoy whatever little breeze is blowing. The wicker and cane makes are fine for lawn or camp use. I have the best that the leading manufacturers produce, and sell them at from $2.50 to $5.50.

DINNER SET OF 50 PIECES, as complete as any made. Exquisitely decorated, and the decoration cannot be washed off. I have but a limited number and they are going at $8.00. Others are getting $10.00, so we should!

CUT GLASS—If it's made I have it. There are exceptional bargains in Coffee, Berry and Chocolate Sets. Not "near cut" but the real article turned out by the world's best concerns and sold to jewelers who ask from one-quarter to a half above the prices I quote.

GAS LAMPS AND DOMES—A large variety at prices which will really astonish you. If you have never had a gas lamp in your home you should gain one of these lamps for every one is a "beauty," and then again you will find it to be a cool way of illuminating your home during the summer.

REFRIGERATORS—A wide assortment of the popular and guaranteed makes. Not the kind which is loosely made and in which ice has to be placed every day, but the air-tight makes which it is a pleasure to own and from which savings are bound to accrue. If you want to keep the food for the family in the best possible condition during the warm weather you will buy one of these.

PARLOR CLOCKS—Every one a good time-keeper. All products of the leading and most widely advertised manufacturers. The manufacturer's guarantee is given to every purchaser.

Remember that while the other dealer's price may be higher than that which Carr is asking, the quality and make of the goods are exactly the same in every instance.

WIDOW OF R. L. BOWMAN ASKS DAMAGES
PROVIDENCE, June 6.—The widow of Robert L. Bowman yesterday brought suit for $25,000 damages against the N. Y. & N. H. R. R. for the death of her husband. It is the first action in this state under the federal liability law. Bowman was a car inspector.
Counsel for Mrs. Bowman claims that the federal statute is enforceable under the state law, and that it clearly makes liable to defendant company, notwithstanding the fact that the accident happened through the failure of the engineer of the express train, a fellow servant of the man killed, to give proper warning or to slow down his train when passing a passenger train from which passengers were alighting.

KIMBALL SHOT HIMSELF BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

He Died in Hospital This Morning—He Was a Resident of Laconia, N. H.

Sylvester Kimball, aged 63 years, a resident of Laconia, N. H., died at 2 o'clock this morning at St. John's hospital from the wound he inflicted by shooting himself last night at the Phillips house in Middlesex street.

Mr. Kimball arrived in this city some time yesterday afternoon, and about 4.30 o'clock he hired a room at the Phillips house. He went to his room and nothing was seen of him until shortly after 7 o'clock when a pistol shot was heard. Mr. Phillips rushed to the room occupied by Kimball and found the latter lying on the bed suffering intense pain.

The ambulance was summoned and the unfortunate man was removed to St. John's hospital where an operation was performed. The following message which Kimball wrote just before he shot himself was found in the room.

"My name is Sylvester Kimball. My address is Laconia, N. H., 268 South Main street, where my wife is now living. I done this awful deed because of poor health and suffering from weak nerves; and my system is breaking up."

"Please break the news very carefully. It will be a hard blow to her. I am going. God bless everybody." S. Kimball.

"No troubles now. My faith is the 23rd Psalm. I have a sister, Mrs. Sarah Whittecher, Wentworth, N. H., and Mrs. Mary Eastbury, New Bedford, Mass., South Water street."

With the above message was a post-office order for $25, payable to Mrs. Sylvester Kimball.

In the room occupied by Kimball was found a quart bottle half full of whiskey. The bottle had been taken from its wrapper, and apparently the purchaser had absorbed a pint of the liquid that he might get up his courage to the suicidal stage.

The revolver found in the room was a cheap weapon, bought at a Lowell store. It was of 32 calibre, and the chamber was fully loaded, except the single shot that had been discharged.

Kimball was received from Laconia last night indicates that the Kimballs were strangers in that town, having resided there for only a short time. During that time Mr. Kimball had posed as the agent of the Buffalo Gold Mining Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., and had visited many people in that vicinity in an endeavor to sell some of the stock. He had an office in the Harriman building on Main street, Laconia, N. H. Kimball, when informed of the attempted suicide of her husband, went into hysterics and nothing could be learned from her in regard to antecedents, or where they came from.

TEXTILE SCHOOL
GRADUATION EXERCISES WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

The graduation exercises of the Lowell textile school will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The exercises will be held in Southwick hall in the main school building, and everybody is welcome. There are no tickets or invitations, the public being invited without formality. The buildings will be open for inspection during the day and an interesting feature will be the reproduction of the school's exhibit recently made at the textile show in Boston.

The chief speaker of the afternoon will be Hon. Joseph Walker of Brookline, formerly speaker of the house of representatives. The medal of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers will be presented by Frederick A. Mather and Franklin W. Hobbs, treasurer of the Arlington mills of Lawrence, will present the prize offered by that corporation for proficiency in textile design. This latter prize is open to the competition of both day and evening students.

The graduation exercises have always been meritorious and not excessively technical and this year's program is expected to be unusually pleasing.

LOVE LETTERS
YOUNG VINCENT ASTOR DELUGED WITH THEM

NEW YORK, June 6.—Vincent Astor, who when he becomes of age next November will be the master of an estate of possibly $100,000,000, has been the subject of great solicitude to several thousand correspondents. Letters by the bushel have poured in upon him, ranging from scintillating outbursts of passion to sober effusions of advice as to the best manner of spending his money.

Mr. Astor is reticent almost to the point of shyness, and this sudden wave of professed affection has overwhelmed him.

Mr. Astor orders the letters burned weekly in big bundles.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Edwin K. Blais to William Holcombe, dated August 1, 1907, and recorded with Middlesex North District Deeds, Book 423, Page 335, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed, I, the undersigned, do hereby sell at public auction upon the premises described in said mortgage deed, on Monday, July 1, 1912, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, viz:

A certain tract of land situated in Buxton, Commonwealth of Maine, consisting of one acre, more or less, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the corner of a stone wall at land formerly of one Sawyer and land of Fred H. Parker, thence northerly on said stone wall by said Parker land five hundred eighty-three (583) feet, more or less, to a cross wall; thence easterly on said cross wall by land of one King, five hundred fourteen (514) feet, more or less, to a wall at land of one Sexton, thence southerly on said wall by said Sexton land six hundred thirty-five (635) feet, more or less, to a corner of the wall; thence easterly on said wall three hundred forty-seven (347) feet, more or less, by other land of Sexton and said Parker, land to the point of beginning. Containing six acres, more or less.

Said premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage of $300 to Charles R. Jones, dated October 2, 1907, and recorded with Middlesex North District Deeds, Book 24, Page 276. Said premises will also be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax sales, or other municipal liens, if any.

One hundred dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale; further terms and particulars may be then and there announced.

WILLIAM P. HOLCOMBE, Mortgagee.

FUNERALS

McMANUS—The funeral of Mary McManus took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home, 111 Common street, and was largely attended. Services were held at the grave in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. Timothy P. Cahill officiating. The bearers were Dennis and David Shanahan, Michael Crowe and Mr. Kelley. Undertaker C. H. Molloy had charge of the arrangements.

MARGEROLE—The funeral of Mrs. Michel Margerole took place yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church. Rev. Fr. Deshot, O. S. I., officiated, assisted by Rev. Fr. O'Quette, O. M. I., as deacon. The choir was under the direction of Dr. George E. Calise and Arthur Marel was at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. Joseph, Alphonse and Arsene Parquette, brothers of the deceased, Emory Cosme, Alexis Poulin and W. L. Desjardins. The Notre Dame du Bonsecours society was represented by Mrs. Alexis Poulin, Miss Stephanie Chene, Miss Philomene Demers and Miss Elodie Gagnon. The St. Anne sodality was represented by Mrs. Charles Lirette, Mrs. A. Langlais, Mrs. E. Chouinard and Mrs. J. St. George. The burial took place in St. Joseph's cemetery. Rev. Fr. Blais read the committal prayers at the grave. Undertaker Archambault was the funeral director.

CLAYTON—The funeral of Agnes Clayton took place from the residence of her brother-in-law, 134 Allen avenue, yesterday, and was largely attended. Rev. Appleton Granits, rector of St. Anne's church, officiated. There were many beautiful floral offerings, prominent among which were: Pillow from the family; wreath, Mr. H. Whipple, and sprays from Mrs. Logan, Madley and Dufay, William and Bertha, Sarah and Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, Harry, George and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Jessops, Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner and Mrs. Taylor. Burial was in the Edison cemetery, in charge of Undertaker George M. Eastman.

GALVIN—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Galvin took place this morning from her late home, 6 Walker place at 8.30 o'clock and was largely attended. At 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Joseph Curran, at St. Patrick's church. Seated in the sanctuary was Rev. William J. McCarthy, of the Sacred Heart church of Lynn, a relative of the deceased. The choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson, rendered the Gregorian chant, Miss Alice E. Murphy and Mr. Andrew McCarthy sustaining the solos. Among the many floral offerings were a pillow inscribed "Mother," Miss Julia Galvin, wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Tobin family, wreath, Mr. and Mrs. McGowan family, spray, Mr. and Mrs. Bowles, spray, Mr. and Mrs. Longtin and family, spray, Mrs. Slater, and spray, Mrs. Damon. The bearers were Messrs. John J. Sullivan, James J. Sullivan, Thomas Tobin, and James Tennessee. The interment was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Fr. Curran, assisted by Fr. McCarthy. The funeral was under the direction of J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

DEATHS

SHEEHAN—Andrew Sheehan, for 32 years a salesman at Putnam & Sons, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his brother, Mr. Thomas E. Sheehan, at the Westlands, in Chelsea, aged 65 years. The deceased is survived by two brothers, Thomas E. and John C. Sheehan. He was a member of Court Merrimack, P. of A.

FIRE IN COAL SHED

IT PROBABLY WAS STARTED BY YOUNGSTERS

An alarm from box 338 at 8.07 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a blaze in one of the coal sheds of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad off Maple street. The fire was probably caused by some youngsters who were in the vicinity but it was extinguished before any material damage was done.

When the automobile patrol started to leave the place the rear of the machine sank into the sand up to the hubs of the wheels and the running boards. The members of the company resorted to the shovels, after which they used jacks and planks but the engine could not pull the rear of the machine out of the sandpit.

About half an hour's work one of the members of the company rushed to Engine 1 in Gorham street and a few minutes later the overalls wagon with three horses attached, pulled the machine out of the sandy bed.

THE CAPE COD CANAL

While the nation is talking of the great Panama canal, the Bay State has a big canal proposition of its own in the Cape Cod canal, now under construction and to be completed in 1913. This canal will be of great benefit to navigation to and from the port of Boston as many vessels have been wrecked in rounding the Cape in stormy weather. The canal will afford a shelter in such cases and will serve as a military stronghold in time of war, quite as important as its commercial value in time of peace. The canal will pass through the isthmus a distance of eight miles, but to reach deep water in the bays at either end the length will be thirteen miles. The depth will be 25 feet and the minimum width 100 feet at the bottom and 250 at the surface. Traffic across the canal will be conducted on drawbridges.

The canal will be visited Saturday by an excursion party of the Boston chamber of commerce, accompanying the delegates who recently attended the International Navigation Congress at Philadelphia.

The construction of this canal has been agitated since colonial days and a great number of surveys were ordered by congress, but nothing further was done by the federal government. After the construction of the Erie canal in 1825 the stream of commerce was diverted to New York and the importance of the Cape Cod canal was thereafter minimized.

In 1899 a charter was granted to the Boston, Cape Cod and New York Canal company of which Mr. Dewitt C. Flanagan was the prime mover. Mr. August Belmont financed the scheme and work was begun in 1909 to be completed about the same time as the Panama canal or before, as an effort will be made to complete the work by the fall of next year.

The port of Boston is on the eve of a wonderful development and the opening of the Cape Cod canal in conjunction with the extensive scheme of harbor development will have a most beneficial effect upon the commerce of this important port. We expect to see it regain some of the supremacy it lost on the opening of the Erie canal.

TO REGULATE PUBLIC SERVICE STRIKES

A great railroad strike is threatened on the elevated lines in Boston. Such a strike would cause immense inconvenience in Boston and vicinity. Yet the people are helpless. The legislature has been appealed to for some law to make strikes in public service corporations illegal until the matters in controversy have been investigated and fully reported upon. But nothing has been done about it. Until some such law is put into effect these strikes will continue to paralyze industry while they last and to inflict as much if not more injury upon the strikers than upon the companies they are intended to coerce. There should be some legal restraint upon the tie-up of public service corporations, and this can be done without interfering in the least with the rights of labor to seek better conditions by every means in its power.

The threat of the management of the Boston Elevated to spend a million dollars rather than recognize the union is not calculated to conciliate the men who are determined to force the issue. If the elevated were a private corporation such a threat would not concern the general public so much as it does coming from the head of a public service corporation. The issue involves the convenience and we might say the rights of 1,500,000 people included in the twelve cities and towns reached by the elevated system. The railroad manager who leaves the public out of the consideration is not fit to hold such an important post and one in which mismanagement may precipitate a state of affairs bordering upon anarchy.

BOARD OF TRADE REPORT

The annual report of Secretary Murphy of the board of trade is a very creditable presentation of the various activities of the board throughout the year. President Greene was always ready to give his time and his labor for the benefit of the city wherever he thought he could accomplish anything of importance. He did good work on the new charter as on many other important movements, and in one and all he had the valuable assistance of the efficient secretary, John H. Murphy. The board of late has become an active force for the good of the community and may remain so while it means business and keeps out of partisan politics and sectionalism of all kinds.

THAT CITY LOAN

Mayor O'Donnell is justified in dealing as he has done with the three Lowell representatives who opposed the necessary loan to meet a debt they helped to pile up while members of the old city council. The implication that men elected to office under a charter which they opposed has anything to do with the present situation is all nonsense. With a loan of less than $500,000 the municipal board will not be able to take care of the note for $700,000 falling due in July. The legislature might as well grant the permission sought as haggle over it and grant an amount so small that it will be of no practical benefit to the city.

The democratic national program includes a provision for new roads, something which in the past had been held unconstitutional. The constitution is now more liberally interpreted, however, not only in this but in many other respects. Federal control is now extended where heretofore it would have been scorned as an infringement upon the rights of the sovereign states.

The member of the Lawrence school board convicted of planting dynamite should not make it necessary to have formal proceedings inaugurated for his removal. One would suppose that he would promptly resign from a board for which his conviction renders him wholly ineligible. It should not be necessary to apply the recall in such a case.

The municipal council should lose no time on the construction of the proposed comfort stations on Paige street, near Bridge. It is proposed to have one on either side of the street to accommodate both sexes and to have them big enough so that there will be ample light and ventilation. They should have been provided long ago.

The executive council did right in commuting the sentence of Mrs. Cusumano and letting her male associate in the crime go to his doom. Few murderers have escaped conviction in this state of late. That is as it should be; but it would seem that so many executions should lessen the number of such crimes in the future. That remains to be seen.

Seen and Heard

I had heard that bananas while green were productive of great heat and when piled in cars and storehouses the heat was almost unbearable. Yesterday I happened along when a car containing 500 bunches of bananas was being opened and you may take it from yours truly that the heat story is all right. The car was well ventilated but the heat was probably as great as in any boiler room in the city. The consignee or purchaser of the bananas told me that there is a big demand for ripe bananas at the present time and he said that unless they were given lots of air it doesn't take them long to ripen. He allowed, however, that forced ripening does not improve the taste of the bananas. "I have seen bananas cook right on the stalks," he said, "and then sold for rare ripeness."

We were talking about the high cost of living and one of the party, a fellow familiar with the wholesale business in general, said that the newspapers and magazines were wont to place all the blame for the high cost of living on the shoulders of the middle man and the rest of us allowed that the newspapers and magazines were right. "In the majority of cases," said the defender of the middle man, "the retailer is to blame. I know retailers who have been buying strawberries for seven cents a box and getting fifteen cents a box for them. The middle man has been selling the retailer potatoes at the rate of 33 cents a peck and we have had to pay the retailer as high as 60 cents a peck for the same potatoes. Don't blame everything on the middle man. The retailer is the angel."

Sandy was an elder in the church, and a truly pious man. He had an eye for beauty and a love for it, but the married Tina because he knew she would make him an excellent wife. "I suppose Tina is a handsome lass?" said Sandy's cousin, who met

An old lady was going over the zoo, and after some time she went up to a keeper and tapped him on the shoulder with her umbrella.

"Well, mum?" said the keeper. "I want to ask you," explained the old lady, "while of the animals in the zoo you consider the most remarkable."

The keeper scratched his head for a while, then he replied, "After careful consideration, as you might say, I've come to the conclusion as the biscuit goes to the laughing hyena."

"Indeed!" said the old lady, in surprise. "And why do you consider the laughing hyena so remarkable?"

"Well, mum," answered the zoological expert, "he only has a sleep once a week, he only has a meal once a month, and he only has a drink once a year. So what he's got to laugh about is a bloomin' mystery to me!"

NANCY JANE

(Harper's Weekly)
She cannot make the sort of pies that mother used to make. She cannot make the sort of bread that mother used to make. She cannot knit such ear tabs as the mater used to knit. Nor can she crochet mittens like the ones my mother knit. She has no knack at darning socks such as my mother had. Nor can she plunk a pompano as mother or planked the shad. She cannot sweep, she cannot dust, as did my dear old ma. And when it comes to crazy quilts her products' under par.

She cannot harness up a horse the way my mother could. She cannot put a prune in jars as mother's half as good. She cannot shine the brasses on our ancient fireplace.

The way my mother always did with bright and smiling face. She cannot hoe potato hills or plant a row of corn. I don't if she could really blow out old time dinner horn.

She cannot know how to milk a cow or Nor could she ma did the chicken coop and pen.

She cannot make a pair of jeans that anyone could wear. Although my mother made my dad's, with some for me to spare. She cannot take an old machine and stitch herself a gown. That she could wear to meet or when shopping in the town.

She cannot keep her pants and pans as shining as the sun. She's mighty poor at napjacks and her biscuits I would shun. Indeed, in quite a hundred things like these my mother dear Was far away superior to Nancy Jane, I fear.

And yet I love her and rejoice that she at last is mine. Her love has glided all my life with happiness divine. Nor do I e'en lament the fact that things that mother did. She cannot do—the truth, and I do not miss the things at all; I suffer not a bit.

And life is such that I am always satisfied with it. For Nancy Jane has millions and—I'll whisper it to you—Has got the cash to pay for things that mother used to do.

CORPUS CHRISTI

ANNUAL PROCESSION IN ST. JOSEPH'S PARISH NEXT SUNDAY

The third annual procession, in honor of the feast of Corpus Christi in St. Joseph's parish will be held next Sunday afternoon from St. Jean Baptiste church to the grove of Our Lady of Lourdes at the French American exchange, Pawtucket street. The ceremony will be of a larger scale than in previous years.

The procession will be composed of all the fraternal and church societies of the parish including the military guards and the children who recently made their first communion and these who were confirmed a week or so ago, as well as members of the clergy. In the early part of the afternoon the men will assemble in the upper part of St. Joseph's church where a short sermon will be delivered probably by the pastor, Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I., followed by the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

At 2:30 o'clock the procession headed by a brass band and the members of the C. M. A. C. will start, the line of march being through Allen street to Moody, to Pawtucket and into the grounds of the orphanage, where benediction will be given at the grove. At the close of the ceremony the procession will return to St. Jean Baptiste church by way of Pawtucket and Merrimack streets. At the church the procession will be dismissed while the women will enter the church and listen to a sermon.

The Comfort and Economy of Tourist Sleeping Cars in Traveling to the Pacific Coast

I would like to explain to you, just what a Tourist sleeping car is, what conveniences and comforts they have, and how you can save money by joining one of our through parties, which go to the coast every week in one of these cars, escorted by a special conductor employed by the "Burlington Route" to look after your comfort. For many years the Burlington Route Through Tourist Car Excursions to California have been widely known for the excellence of the service provided, and the character of the employees in charge. The whole idea of these parties is to provide a way for people of moderate means to make the California trip comfortably and in thoroughly good hands, and at the same time at an expense that is not prohibitive. Please call at the office or write a postal will do. Alex Stokes, New England Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R. 264 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

M'MANUS ELECTED HEAD OF THE MOOSE

Next Meeting to be Held in Providence

HOLYOKE, June 6.—The election of Providence as the meeting place of the Moose next year and the election of officers were the most important features of yesterday's session of the New England branch of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Joseph McManus of Fall River was elected president. The convention closed at 4 yesterday afternoon, and last evening a banquet given the visiting delegates, about 300 in number, on Mt. Tom.

The convention was opened at 10 yesterday morning by Past Dictator Martin J. Leary of Holyoke, who introduced Mayor John J. White. Dictator Frank O'Connell, who was to have officiated, was ill with a cold.

Mayor White welcomed the delegates in behalf of the city and introduced Pres. W. H. Bullard of the board of trade, who also gave the delegates a welcoming speech. The convention discussed a home for members of the order afflicted with tuberculosis and a committee consisting of a member from each lodge will be appointed to take up the matter and report later. The bylaws were revised and various routine matters transacted. A vote of thanks was extended to the Holyoke lodge.

The principal speakers at the banquet last night were W. H. Bullard, president of the board of trade, and City Solicitor Thomas J. O'Connor. The delegates will go by boat from Holyoke to Springfield today.

Officers were elected as follows: Joseph McManus of Fall River, president; James Reilly of Providence, vice president; C. L. Dennis of Bridgeport, secretary; Chas. M. Sande of Springfield, treasurer; P. J. Fitzgerald of Boston, sergeant-at-arms; C. L. Mead of Braintree, inside guard; Herbert G. Pike of Lynn, outside guard. The executive committee will be appointed by the president.

BELVIDERE WHIST CLUB

Mrs. A. E. O'Heir entertained the Belvidere Whist club at her beautiful home on Clark road yesterday afternoon. The day was grand for an outing, and all had a thoroughly good time. The guests indulged in whist and other amusements. At whist the scores ran high, and the honors of the game fell to Mrs. Edward Martin and Miss Winifred Haggerty, and both received beautiful favors. Music, both vocal and instrumental was enjoyed, after which a very dainty and palatable lunch was served, and it was the unanimous verdict that the outing was a grand success.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

As cool as the traditional cucumber Keith's theatre is getting the crowds these days with its program of five big vaudeville acts, five reels of the best of motion pictures and the celebrated Keith's eight piece orchestra. This is Thursday, which means a change of bill with the exception of Alfredo, the wonderful violinist who has been retained for the entire week by request. Alfredo is but a mere youth and yet he is a master of the violin. From the classic compositions to the popular rag-time he is equally at home while his tones in the opinion of the critics are magnificent. But there will be two headline acts for the remainder of the week for Isabelle Everson, one of the most beautiful of stage heroines, appears with her dramatic company of 14 people in a charming production. Miss Everson was one of the most recent of the leading ladies of the celebrated Boston Museum stock company, the strongest stock aggregation the country has ever known. She played leads with Joseph Hewarth, Jack Mason, Edgar Davenport and others of national reputation and was famous for her beauty as well as her talent. In addition to these two exceptionally strong acts there will be three other regular Keith acts and the usual five reels of new motion pictures. Don't forget that the interior of the theatre is kept at a delightful temperature no matter how hot it may be outdoors.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Another week of successes is being enjoyed by the members of the Temple Players at the Merrimack Square theatre. Their presentation of the complete miniature musical comedy entitled "Circus Days" has many original features that are up to the standard of past performances, and they combine in making most amusing entertainment. Miss Hawthorne, producer and leading soloist of the company is seen in several excellent numbers and the other members of the cast are also assigned to parts in which they seem best suited. James Dwyer, Jr., is good in his song, "P. T. Barnum Had the Right Idea," and Miss Nichols and Miss Wood have solo numbers that are most enjoyable. Miss Nichols' "Baseball" number, assisted by the members of the Pye Ballet, is one of the hits of the week. Miss Gilman does clever execution in a dancing number. Earl and Bartlett, in "O'Brien from Galway," dispense a large measure of humor in a delightful manner. They open their act with a laugh, carry it along on laughs and close in a roar. Some good singing is also mixed with it in a pleasing manner. Ben Pierce, Dutch comedian, has a good singing voice and his own manner of "putting over" his humor is most enjoyable. Miss Alice Bagley, the week's vocalist, is heard in some of her latest and best song-hits. Donnelly Hendon, comedy acrobat, is also clever.

The photo-plays for the last three days of the week are excellent portrayals taken from life. These picture plays are shown in this city for the first time and are among the best products of the biggest manufacturers. Remember that this theatre is "the coolest spot in town."

THEATRE VOYONS

A pair of excellent biograph comedies "Tom Boy Bessie" and "Alley the Watchman" built just for laughing purposes are features of the new bill at the Theatre Voyons today. The best of the biograph comedians appear in these and they are most satisfying if one cares to laugh. Pathe's Weekly is an exceptionally interesting number showing many different views of current events. Then the dramatic feature "Broncho Billy's Bible" shows the favorite western actor, William A. Anderson, in one of his cleverest roles. It is beautifully staged and is really one of the best pictures the star has ever appeared in.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

"Did that explorer suffer any physical ailment as a result of his trip to the South Pole?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

"Writer's cramp."

"Don't you ever go to a ball game?"

"Well, no. I went to one 11 years ago, and the home team lost, and I know that everybody considers me a hoodoo."

"What was it?"

"Writer's cramp."

"Do you intend cultivating a garden?"

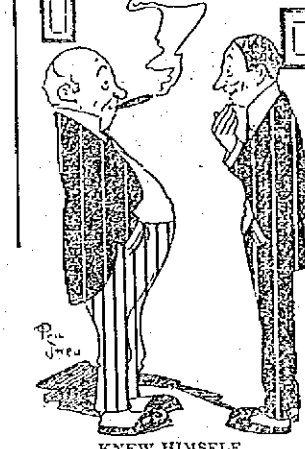

"No. That would deprive me of the joy of reading and believing in these beautiful seed catalogues."

"What was it?"

"Writer's cramp."

MR. STEARNS TESTIFIES
IN $10,000 LIBEL SUITAlleged Libelous Articles Read in Court Today—The Plaintiff
Cross-Examined

The case of Frank K. Stearns, a former chairman of the board of police, against Dennis A. Long, publisher of a local Sunday paper, an action of tort to recover $10,000 for alleged libel, was resumed this morning at the superior court before Judge Stevens.

Yesterday afternoon Lawyer William H. Bent, counsel for the plaintiff, in opening the case read the different counts, 21 in number, and this morning gave a general outline of his case. He produced files of the defendant's paper and read therefrom various articles which it is alleged are libelous.

The reading of the different articles in the files took up considerable time. Mr. Bent going into detail in each article. He also referred to the display headings on some of the articles.

One of the most prominent articles referred to was headed "Under Hypnotic Spell of Innholders of Lowell." There was another article that was titled "Acting in the Interests of the Rumblers." There were other articles which it is alleged referred to the acts of Mr. Stearns while a member of the police board.

Frank K. Stearns, the plaintiff, was the first witness called. He testified in part as follows: "I have lived in Lowell 51 years and have carried on a laundry business in this city for 23 years, it being known as Scriptura's laundry. I have a wife, two daughters and a son. One of my daughters is married and lives in Cold Springs, N. Y. My other daughter is living at home with me at the present time, as is my son."

Questioned by Mr. Bent, the witness said: "I was a member of the school board for four years, a member of the general court for two years, and a member of the board of police from December, 1907 until June, 1910. Mr. Stearns said that he and Mr. Thomas P. Boulger and Charles H. Hanson, all members of the board of police at that time, were, after a hearing, removed from office by the then mayor, George H. Brown. Witness said that he and his colleagues appealed to the superior court and they were restored to office."

Mr. Stearns stated that when he took office it was a custom that when a member of the department was under charges the officer should be given a chance to choose between a private and a public hearing.

One of the counts in the charge refers to an article relative to Dr. Benner. "Who is Dr. Benner?" asked Lawyer Bent.

"He is an expert in the examination of persons alleged to be insane," was the answer.

On cross examination the witness in answer to questions by Mr. Murphy, counsel for the defense, stated the time he spent at his work in the laundry and also that spent at the duties of his office as chairman of the board of police.

Mr. Murphy in trying to show that Mr. Stearns had not suffered any injury referred to his work as an amateur theatrical man. The witness said that he had taken part in dramatics for 40 years.

Mr. Murphy referred to a play in which the witness was an actor. "That was a farce comedy, was it not?" was the question.

"No, sir," was the prompt answer.

"What was the nature of the play?"

"It was a comedy, but I never took any part in a farce comedy."

"Are you going to take any part in a play tonight?"

"I expect that I will be the interlocutor."

"And you have had many rehearsals?"

"I have not had any rehearsals."

Counsel for the defense referred to Mr. Stearns' actions while on the police board and read a long typewritten instruction addressed to the patrolmen, a copy of which was sent out by the board of police while Mr. Stearns was chairman.

"At this point reference was made relative to the hearing held by ex-Mayor Brown when he removed the plaintiff and the other two commissioners and also the reinstatement of the board by the superior court."

Witness testified that three different members of the Law and Order league had called upon him relative to the sale of liquor and the use of sandwiches on Sunday. Mr. Stearns said that he gave the suggestion considerable thought.

"What was done as a result?" asked counsel.

"We visited the different hotels. We, the board, instructed the superintendent of police to employ four members of the department to make weekly visits, on Sundays, for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of the hotels."

"Was any other action taken?"

"Yes, we called the hotel keepers to meet us at the rooms of the board and instructed them as to the manner in which they should conduct their business on Sunday."

Reference was then made to the hearing of the three commissioners of the police board, their being removed from office and they being subsequently restored as a result of the decision rendered by Judge Dana.

At this point counsel for the defense read a number of reports of visits made to the local hotels by the liquor inspectors.

A recess of ten minutes was taken at this time and upon the resumption of the case Lawyer Murphy continued with the reading of the reports of liquor inspectors who had visited the hotels on Sunday in 1908.

At this point Judge Stevens asked counsel for the defense to abbreviate the reading of the records of the liquor inspectors. Mr. Murphy asked the privilege of quoting the records of the inspection on several other dates and his request was granted. He devoted about half an hour to the reading of records relative to the number of persons present at different hours in the various hotels during the time that the plaintiff was chairman of the board of police.

Mr. Stearns Recalled

At the conclusion of the reading of the reports Mr. Stearns took the stand again and testified that the reports of the liquor inspectors were perused every Tuesday night at the meetings of the board of police.

"Your board received a letter from Lawyer Johnson, counsel for the board, relative to the conditions in the hotels in this city?" asked Mr. Murphy.

"Yes, sir."

"You conveyed to Mr. Johnson certain information relative to these facts?"

"Yes, sir."

"When did you have any of the innholders before the board?"

"On September 1 the licensee of the St. Charles hotel was brought before the board for a violation of the law."

Counsel for the defense at this point queried the witness relative to the manner in which he (Mr. Stearns) interpreted the law about the use of liquor as testified by him at the hearing before ex-Mayor Brown.

Mr. Stearns stated that while he was in office, as a member of the police board, he, on different occasions, had conferences with a member and members of the Law and Order league.

Lawyer Murphy then questioned the witness relative to count four, which referred to the closing of florists' stores on Sunday.

Mr. Stearns, upon being put through a rapid cross-examination, testified that the articles which appeared in the defendant's paper had given him considerable thought.

At this time reference was made to the summoning of ex-Mayor Brown before the police board and the subsequent election of Mr. Brown and later

FOUR AMERICAN BATTLESHIPS
MAY REACH CUBA TOMORROW
TO PROTECT THE FOREIGNERS

WASHINGTON, June 6.—With four American battleships steaming toward Guantanamo, the force of marines immediately available for the protection of foreign life and property in Cuba is increased to more than 1500.

The battleships Minnesota, Missouri and Ohio, the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, which put out from Key West late yesterday under command of Rear Admiral Usher should arrive at Guantanamo probably tomorrow.

As President Gomez indicated in his statement last night the assumption by the American marines of responsibility for the safety of the foreign properties in Oriente will relieve Gen. Montaguado's army of the most onerous portion of its work and will enable that officer to begin almost immediately an organized campaign in force against the marauding bands of negro insurgents.

The state department fully confirms President Gomez's declaration regarding the non-political nature of the American naval movement. It is intended solely to guard the foreign owned plantations and mines at points where the Cuban government forces cannot extend protection.

A VOLUNTEER GUARD
WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Gomez has informed the United States through American Minister Beaupre that he is forming a volunteer guard to protect foreign property and asks that his recent order for Krug Jorgensen rifles be increased from 5000 to 10,000 and that 2,000,000 cartridges accompany them.

QUIET IN HAVANA
HAVANA, June 6.—The government was without further news from Oriente produce this morning and did not expect a forward movement of the troops until the Cuban plantation guards, now relieved of this duty by the American marines had rejoined their respective commands and the guerrilla corps now being organized had begun to take the field. All was quiet in this city and vicinity today.

the hearing of the members of the police board before the mayor.

The Hersey Case

The matter of the action of the board relative to the findings in the case of ex-Patrolman Charles Hersey was also reviewed and Mr. Stearns admitted that he and another member of the board found the officer not guilty and that the third member of the board submitted a minority report. The officer in question was given a public hearing after making an arrest of a man for drunkenness who it is alleged never drank any intoxicants.

Mr. Stearns was chairman.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

When court reconvened at 2 o'clock court right was taken up.

"When Mr. Hanson and Mr. Boulger were appointed Mr. Wier resigned?"

said counsel for plaintiff.

"He did," replied Mr. Stearns.

Counsel for plaintiff then moved on to exhibit nine and ten and read several of the articles alleged to be libelous.

One of the articles referred to a "gambling place" in Prescott street.

Mr. Murphy asked Mr. Stearns if he knew anything about such a place and

AUTO ACCIDENTS
CAUSED TWO DEATHSBoston Woman and Boy
the Victims

BOSTON, June 6.—Two deaths from injuries sustained in auto accidents occurred early today in this city. Andrew Straus, 14 years old, of 1184 Tremont street died at the city hospital a few hours after he was struck and internally injured by an automobile said to be owned by Dino Fulcon of Pawtucket and operated by Joseph M. Headington of Providence. Mrs. Mary Dignan, aged 50, of 89 Union Park street, died from a fractured skull received when she was struck by a machine alleged to be owned and operated by Ralph A. Gowd, an attorney of this city.

MAN TAKEN TO ASYLUM

James Ryan, who it is alleged is insane, and escaped from a hospital in Worcester several days ago, was arrested at 31 Bunels place, this afternoon by Inspector John Walsh of the local police department. Two Worcester officers were present in this city and after the arrest the man was returned to the asylum.

FATHER OF GOVERNOR FOSS
PASSED AWAY THIS MORNINGHe Was Ill for Several Months—
Was Born in Derby, Vt.,
June 1, 1830

BOSTON, June 6.—George Edmund Foss, father of Eugene Foss of Massachusetts and Congressman George E. Foss of Illinois, died during the night at his home in Jamaica Plain after an illness of several months, aged 82. Heart trouble and complication of diseases were the cause of death. Since early yesterday Mr. Foss had been unconscious. At his bedside, when he passed away were Gov. Foss, Congressman Foss, and other members of the family.

Mr. Foss was born in Derby, Franklin county, Vt., June 1, 1830, and recently celebrated his 82nd birthday. Mr. Foss was married in 1856 to Marcia C. Noble, daughter of Sylvester C. Noble of Franklin county, Vt., with whom he became a partner in the commission business at St. Albans, Vt., to which place Mr. Foss and his family moved in 1857. In 1858 Mr. Foss retired from business. After residing in Chicago a few years he came to Boston, where he had since lived. Mr. Foss is survived by his wife and two sons, Governor Foss, formerly representative in congress from the 14th district, and Congressman George E. Foss of Chicago. There are also seven grandchildren.

The following resolution was adopted unanimously by the house of representatives today:

"Whereas, His Excellency, Governor Eugene N. Foss has sustained the loss of his venerable father, be it resolved that the members of the house of representatives extend to His Excellency their sincere sympathy and that the sergeant-at-arms be requested to maintain the flags on the state house at half-mast for the next three days."

SHOT FATHER-IN-LAW
AND WOUNDED HIMSELFAssailant Was Enraged Because
He Failed to Secure Prosecution of Victim

NEW YORK, June 6.—Enraged at the failure of his prosecution of Chas. Upton, his father-in-law, who wounded him in self defense May 1, Thomas Ralls went to Upton's home today, shot him through the right lung, wounded Mrs. Upton and later shot himself when about to be captured. Upton is believed to have been fatally hurt. He resisted Ralls' attempt to obtain possession of Ralls' child from his home and shot him.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS MEET
ARE READY FOR FRAYWill Settle Disputes Arising Out of Election of Delegates to the Convention

CHICAGO, June 6.—Although the representation was not complete a majority of the members of the republican national committee assembled at the coliseum prepared to enter the fray of a ten day series of meetings which will determine what men shall fill 254 contested seats of a total of 1075 seats on the floor of the convention when it is called to order June 18.

The meeting today was expected to develop a skirmish between the Taft and Roosevelt forces which might become highly important as foreshadowing the line of fighting that will be carried into the convention. The Taft leaders, according to reports from various sources, had decided to use their claimed majority of the committee to seat Taft delegates in nearly all of the many contests. Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania and several other Taft leaders expressed eagerness to get down to the actual work of hearing contests late today. It is possible that the first contests on the list, those from Alabama, will be called before night.

On the question of open or closed sessions members of the committee tentatively had agreed to admit two representatives of each press association recognized on the floor of congress. This arrangement, it was urged by the committee, would assure publicity on the deliberations of that body without necessary complications.

A conference between members of the national committee from southern states presided over by U. S. Senator Sanders of Tennessee was held, just previous to the committee meeting.

PREPARING FOR STRIKE ON BOSTON ELEVATED

BOSTON, June 6.—Preparations for a strike on the Boston Elevated railroad system were made today by both the officials of the company and the newly unionized employees. Officers of the new union said that a strike appeared to be almost inevitable. The company is hiring new men in anticipation of such a move. A number of men have already arrived here from Philadelphia and New York and are training at the company's school of instruction. The discharge of men who recently joined the union is said by the employees to be the cause of the present trouble.

Should a strike be called the residents of twelve cities and towns would be affected. It is estimated that at this season of the year the road's daily traffic is nearly 1,000,000 passengers.

About 3000 men are employed in operating the company's cars. The company has 3000 other employees.

WIFE CHARGES CRUELTY
WANTS SEPARATIONMrs. Crandall Formerly
Telegraph OperatorTEWKSBURY HOUSE
DESTROYED BY FIREProtective Co. Saved the Adjoining Barn

NEW YORK, June 6.—Frederick H. Crandall, who is said to have received $2,000,000 from the estate of his uncle, the late Edwin Hawley, found himself defendant today in a suit for separation brought by his wife, Mrs. Adelaide Crandall, charging him with abandonment, cruelty and non-support. It was because of Crandall's infatuation for Mrs. Crandall, formerly Miss Adelaide McManus, a telegraph operator in the Southern Pacific offices, where Crandall was also employed, that Mr. Hawley severed all relations with his nephew. With the railroad man's death, however, Crandall came in for a slice of his fortune. Mr. Hawley having died intestate. In her complaint Mrs. Crandall recites that much of the alleged cruelty on the part of her husband occurred in the last few months or after he had come into affluence. They have five children.

FORESTERS MET

The semi-monthly meeting of Court St. Antoine, C. O. F., was held last night in C. M. A. C. hall with a large attendance. Chief Ranger P. N. Rivet occupied the chair and among the business transacted the members voted to attend in a body the public meeting which is to be held tonight in the same hall under the auspices of Court St. Antoine. Rev. Henri Wattle's invitation to take part in the Corpus Christi procession which will be held Sunday afternoon was also accepted.

At 8:25 o'clock this morning an alarm from box 415 summoned a portion of the fire department to Tewksbury beyond the Wigginsville line, where Paul Smith's house was on fire. The department went as far as the city limits only, but when the chief arrived he gave the Protective company orders to go to the fire and their work was needed to save the barn. The house, however, was burned to the ground. How the fire started is not known.

Max Schwartz, who conducts a shoe store in Prescott street, was arraigned before Judge Fisher in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of shoes to the value of about $250 from the W. L. Douglas Shoe Co., the goods, it is alleged, having been obtained under false pretence. The defendant through his counsel, J. J. O'Connor and Frank Goldman, entered a plea of not guilty. The government was represented by J. J. Cummings of Boston and James G. Hill of this city.

The first witness called was Harry Charles Sanborn, who conducts a tea business in Prescott street next door to Schwartz's store. He testified to writing letters of a business nature to the Douglas Co. for the defendant, who cannot write, among which was a credit statement.

Albert E. Sweetser of Boston, secretary of the Douglas Co., who swore out the complaint against Schwartz, was next called. He said about Aug. 19, 1911, Schwartz visited him to talk over an order for goods received from the defendant. He said Schwartz told him that if the order was too large to put it down and he did so. He stated that they had a conversation relative to defendant's financial condition and after what was told him he refused to deliver the goods. Later he said he received a letter from Schwartz about his financial condition and consequently he shipped the order to the amount of about $100, half of which was paid for. The letter was offered in evidence but Lawyer O'Connor objected on the ground that it was not signed by Schwartz and asked the court to dismiss the case. Judge Fisher, however, ruled that inasmuch as the letter was signed in the presence of the defendant and accepted by the same, it was valid and he accepted it.

Mr. Sweetser was then asked several questions as to the way of doing business at the W. L. Douglas Co., and at the noon hour he was still on the witness stand.

Neglected His Wife

Irrving C. Moore, who was charged with neglect of wife, entered a plea of guilty and the court ordered him to pay $2 per week for the support of his better half, the money to be paid to the probation officer. The young wife testified that her husband had not contributed a penny toward her support since they were married. She also stated she is not living with him. The young husband, who has not as yet reached his 13th birthday, said his wife forced him to marry her. He said he was willing to help her along, but refused to live with her.

Larceny Charged

Michael Harrington, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Lieut. Maher on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $10, denied his guilt this morning and at the request of his attorney, John J. McCabe, the case was continued till Saturday morning.

Assault and Battery

The case of Theodoras Harakas, charged with assault and battery on Thomas J. Nikos, was continued till Tuesday for sentence after the defendant had pleaded guilty to the complaint.

Drunken Offenders

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. L., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is the constant use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the most polished way habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face girlish-looking and healthy. Ordinarily, mercurized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. American women may easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drug stores generally in the United States. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. Once used is sufficient to completely renovate a had complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and decaying and scar skin which are constantly appearing.—Woman's Herald.

COAL TALK

To My Customers and the General Public—

An explanation of the Anthracite Coal situation at the present time may not be out of place. The miners have just returned to work, after having been out two months, and it is estimated that over 50,000 men have left the district. Not over 1-3 of the mines are yet in full operation, as the greater portion of them are flooded, and it will take weeks and months in some cases to pump them dry and get them back into working condition. Those causes have and will create a big shortage of coal, which will last for more than twelve months.

I have now in transit from the mines to my yards shipments of stove, egg and nut coal, which I will guarantee to be out of the best mines in the hard coal regions. This coal never fails to give satisfaction. I am now taking orders for summer delivery.

Mail and telephone orders will receive immediate attention. If you want to see me personally before placing your fuel order notify me, and I will call.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Lowell Aerio of Eagles was held in Odd Fellows hall in Middlesex street last night. As usual there was a large attendance and considerable business was transacted during the evening. Worthington President Patrick McCann occupied the chair. Notices were read of the convention to be held at Cleveland, O. next month. W. F. Patrick McCann was elected delegate to attend. Brother Bernard Brown was chosen chaplain for the ensuing term. The committee on entertainments gave a very interesting report and the aerio voted to hold a field day on some future date. There were visiting members from Springfield, Waltham, Ayer, Nashua and Cambridge. Three candidates were initiated. The financial secretary, treasurer and board of trustees gave their quarterly reports, which showed a great gain in membership and in the treasury.

Royal Arcanum
The meeting of Industry council, 1722, R. A., was held last night. The recently organized degree staff had an opportunity to demonstrate its worth and did so to the satisfaction of the large representation assembled. The candidate for the exemplification of the ritual was Dr. John T. Donohue, the well known dentist, he having the honor of being the first member to have the degree performed. Four applications were received and will be initiated at some future meeting. Among the visitors present was Supreme Trustee John J. Hogan, who gave a very interesting account of the supreme convention, recently held at

Richmond, Va. After the exercises closed, an entertainment was enjoyed by the members.

Knights of Pythias
The members of Butler Ames company, Knights of Pythias, met last night in regular session. One candidate was admitted and considerable routine business was transacted. The feature of the evening was a banquet tendered to Sir Knight Adelbert Jeffery, who is to leave for Calgary in a few days. Col. Herbert S. Russell complimented the company on the appearance it presented at Salem and tendered the thanks of the Memorial day committee of Salem.

Patrick McCrann Comes Home After 15 Years' Absence

Patrick McCrann, son of Mrs. Mary McCrann of 844 Moody street, this city, and a brother of the famous Larry, who is known on the stage as Prof. Crane, arrived in this city Tuesday after an absence of almost 15 years. He dropped into The Sun office yesterday, not to seek publicity, but to have an article inserted that it is he, and not his brother Larry, who is here. Patrick is the picture of the magician and the reason that he wanted it made known that he is a brother of the popular performer is due to the fact that many people have spoken to him on the streets, calling him Larry, and he overheard several say that "That fellow got awful stuck up lately." "I do not want to injure Larry with his friends here," he said, "for I know he has many, and unless some are told the circumstances they will unjustly turn against him."

While Mr. McCrann was relating his story to a reporter in the office an attaché of the paper, who is well acquainted with the clever magician, came in and extending his hand said: "Well, how is the professor?" Without waiting for an answer he continued, "Well, you're looking good. Where have you been?" Finally the speaker was told that the visitor was a brother of the professor. Patrick McCrann left this city first

In 1888 and but for a short visit here about 15 years ago, has been away until Tuesday, when he came to remain indefinitely. During his absence from Lowell, Mr. McCrann has traveled considerably and has been retired from the United States army, and will receive a pension for the remainder of his life, having completed his term and received an honorable discharge. He is the youngest man to receive a pension from the United States.

Upon leaving Lowell, Patrick, who was then a youngster, had Western ideas. He went to Arkansas and became a member of the United States cavalry. During that time there was a great deal of trouble with the Indians in that section. The Apaches were causing great trouble and the cavalry men were sent to quell disturbances. He remained in that vicinity going at times into New Mexico. At that time there was a reward out for the capture, dead or alive, of "Apache Billy, the Kid." Young McCrann was in the troop that was on the desperado's trail and for two and one-half years they chased him, killing about all his followers but after the hunting Billy disappeared and was never again heard of. It is thought that he killed himself.

The Lowell boy then had a short vacation and went to the war in the Chicago, after which he visited his parents in this city. He then returned to the regular army and was sent to St. Augustine, Florida. From there he went to Fort McPherson, Georgia, and then to New Orleans. He remained on duty in that section until the Spanish-American war broke out. His regiment was the first to be ordered to move and they were sent to Tampa, Florida; later he went to Santiago, and he was then placed in command at El Cobre where there is trouble at the present time.

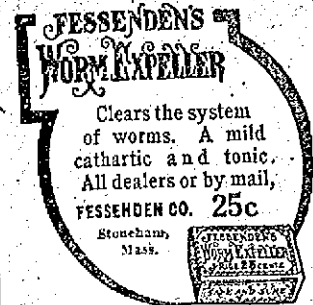

When the army was relieved he was sent to the Philippines and was put in command at La Union province and then at Rizal province. He remained there until 1909, when he completed the required number of years and was retired to receive a pension for the remainder of his life. The cause of his retirement at such an early age is due to the fact that he, as all others, received "double time" for all foreign service.

Mr. McCrann, then went into business in Manila, securing the Binondo cafe, one of the best hotels in that city. He became very popular there and met with remarkable success. He also secured holdings in real estate and other enterprises. He finally thought that he would like to visit his home and disposed of the hotel, but still maintains his interests in the real estate.

On his trip homeward he stopped off at New York and visited his sister and brother, Mary and Joseph, who are doing well there. After a short stay in the metropolis he came here and arrived in town Tuesday at 9 o'clock. He went directly to his mother's home in Moody street, where two of his sisters, Katherine and Nora, also reside. He said that his mother received a card from Larry last week and he was then playing in Dublin, Ireland. He has another brother, James, who is now confined at a Boston hospital.

In speaking of the conditions in the Philippines at the present time, Mr. McCrann said that during the years he was located there there was wonderful improvement. "The natives," he said, "are now engaged in the agricultural business and are making great progress along that line. There are many trade schools, commercial schools and domestic schools in Manila and the natives are becoming well educated. Many of them speak excellent English and since the Americans landed there the inhabitants have taken to their ways and now instead of running the streets barefooted and with dresses of calico, mostly all wear shoes and clothes like ours. There is really more prosperity in Manila than any place I have visited.

"The United States government has made a great many improvements there. A large dock has been made where boats may come right up to the land instead of remaining out in the bay. Great agricultural machines have been installed, a new water supply sewers constructed, streets and parks, new buildings and other general improvements made.

"A Y. M. C. A. building has been erected there for the young natives, and they are taught the American games. They are very enthusiastic over baseball and have a ball league there.

"In the city of Manila there are about 5000 or 6000 Americans who are engaged in government work or control business enterprises. The American people raise sugar cane and are engaged in other agricultural pursuits, and many of them have been very successful, like myself."

Mr. McCrann said that he met several low people while he was there, most of whom were youngsters who were in the navy. He said that he liked there very much but is glad to be back among the old folks once again. He expects to remain here indefinitely, but will return there at intervals to look after his property. He left saying: "Don't fail to say I'm not Larry."

LETTER CARRIERS

HAVE NOT DRAWN YET FOR THEIR VACATIONS

The delay in the announcement of the annual vacations of the Lowell letter carriers is due principally to the fact that the postoffice appropriation bill has not yet passed. According to the rules, after the appropriation bill is voted, the postmaster submits his estimates after which the list is compiled. The fiscal year in the service starts July 1, and generally the vacations start at that time. Unless the bill is soon passed the vacations will start later. At the present time four of the local carriers are on their vacations. These four are ones who were supposed to take their time off last November but preferred to take it at this time and as the month is within the year, Postmaster Legare agreed to accommodate the men.

The mail at the local office is beginning to drop off, there being a very noticeable decrease in the past month. Every summer the mail is generally light with the exception of the souvenir postcards which increase in number in the hot weather.

MANY IMMIGRANTS

ARRIVE AT THE NORTHERN STATION EACH DAY

The immigrants continue to come this way and about every day for the past month aliens have arrived in Lowell. Most of them, however, do not remain here, but transfer at the depot to other parts. A great many of those who have landed in this city have taken trains for different parts of New Hampshire, while many have gone to Lawrence and Haverhill. They come here direct from the old country.

This morning thirty came to this city and after transferring their baggage took trains for Manchester, N. H., and Lawrence, Mass. This party as well as about all others the greater number are men.

Many Lowell people left the depot today for the beaches along the coast of Maine. A number went to Old Orchard, Wells beach and York to remain for the summer season.

Due to the heavy traveling the 10:49 train was 40 minutes late this morning.

The traveling on all trains today was reported to be very heavy while the baggage was also very heavy.

Frank Goss, baggage master at the local depot, left Lowell last evening for Springfield, Mass., to attend the convention of the order of Moose, which opened in that city today.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVALS HELD IN CHURCHES LAST NIGHT

Enjoyable Entertainment Programs Given—Social of Ladies' Benevolent Society

The vestry of the Highland Congregational church was the scene last night of a very enjoyable strawberry festival and entertainment and it was one of the most successful social events in the history of the church. The following committee had charge of the supper and it was an excellent one: Mrs. J. B. Field, chairman; Mrs. Clara Evans, Mrs. C. Marshall Forrest, Miss Flora Foss, Miss Helen Butterick, Mrs. J. E. Cheney, Mrs. G. J. Bradt, Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mrs. C. W. Hoyt, Mrs. F. A. Spear, Mrs. James Webster, Miss Blanche Craven, Miss Staples, Miss Minnie Coburn, Mrs. C. E. Willett, Mrs. E. W. David, Mrs. Edwin Fuller and Mrs. Fred Bryant.

At 8 o'clock an entertainment, consisting of tableaux interspersed with songs by an excellent quartet was given, the musical accompaniment to the tableaux being played by the Sunday school orchestra of the Calvary Baptist church in a most enjoyable manner. The program and cast were as follows:

I. A one act comedy, entitled "A Picked Up Dinner," very laughable little comedy in which considerable fun was gotten out of the dinner mishaps of Mrs. Thompson, played by Mrs. Perry Wilson; her husband, Mr. Thompson, played by Irving D. Kimball, and their maid, Biddy, played by Mrs. C. W. Hoyt.

II. Tableau, "The Fortune Teller," in two scenes acted by Miss Eva Craven and Miss Helen Barrett.

III. Tableau, "The Picked Battle," in two scenes, acted by Miss Hazel Stevens and Miss Winifred Webster.

IV. Tableau, "Teasing Tonight," acted by Reginald Rhodes, Rodman Cheney, William Ingham and James Bradley.

V. Tableau, "Snow Birds," acted by Miss Dorothy Spooner, Miss Virginia Sargent and Miss Vera McKenzie.

VI. Tableau, "Ceres and the Seasons," Miss Elizabeth Adams acting the part of Ceres, Miss Ethel Lombard that of Spring, Miss Mabelle Rogers that of Summer, Miss Pearl Aulet that of Autumn, and Miss Pearl Ellis that of Winter.

VII. Tableau, "The Mother's Dream," in two scenes, Miss Lissa Culler acting the part of the mother; Miss Louise Bancroft, that of the angel, and Miss Dorothy Spooner and Miss Hazel McKenzie those of the children.

VIII. Tableau, "Flora's Garden," Miss Helen Hill acting the part of Flora; Howard Ingham, that of the bluebell; Paul McGregor, that of the cowslip; Miss Marie McPherson, that of the peony; Rodman Cheney, that of the pink; and Winthrop Bean, that of the snowdrop.

IX. Tableau, "The Vacant Chair," with a song accompaniment by the quartet, the part of the wife being acted by Miss Lissa Culler.

X. Tableau, "Christmas Eve," the parts of the children being acted by Winifred Webster and Miss Virginia Sargent, and that of the fairy by Miss Helen Hill.

XI. Tableau, "Winter," acted by Miss Lissa Culler, Winthrop Bean and Charles Forrest.

XII. Song by the quartet.

The tableaux were all gotten up in an excellent manner, the costumes were appropriate and pretty, and the presentation all that could be desired. The whole entertainment was excellent and much enjoyed by the large audience which witnessed it, the vestry being filled to overflowing.

The orchestra was composed of the following: First violin, Miss Mary D. Smith; Harold W. Downe and Clifton Harrison; clarinet, C. M. Cushman; cornet, H. T. Parkhurst; piano, Miss Sarah F. Clement; leader, C. M. Cushman.

The quartet was composed of the following: First tenor, Edward R. Wirt; second tenor, E. Roswell Wirt; first bass, Horatius Leggat, and second bass, T. Parkinson.

The supper table was in charge of Mrs. F. H. Haynes, many pretty and useful aprons being on display at her table.

The candy and refreshment table was in charge of the boy scouts.

Ladies' Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's M. E. church gave a strawberry festival in the church vestry last night. There were other good things besides and the berries were served in a variety of ways.

Following the supper, an entertainment was given under the direction of Mrs. Joseph W. Richardson. The program was as follows:

Piano solo, Esmond Senior; song, "Little Johnny Green Comes to Town," members of the primary department; banjo solo, Wesley Boynton; "Little Boy Scouts," Randolph Cady, Esmond Senior and Donald Farrington; pantomime, "Eight Little Grandmas," Ruth Butler, Louise Drew, Gertrude Sherlock, Harriet Griffiths, Ethel O'Brien, Ellen Shepard, Eula Woodward and Edna MacShane. The "Little Johnny Green" number had to be repeated, it created so excellent an impression.

Mrs. J. Clark Glöden had general charge of the supper, and her assistants were: Mrs. Edwin Cleworth, Mrs. Ada Martin, Mrs. White, Mrs. Fred Brooks, Mrs. George McKewin, Mrs. F. L. Richardson, Mrs. Abel Campbell, Mrs. Coburn, Mrs. Walter Cleworth, and Mrs. William D. Brown. The ice cream was served under the direction of the members of the H. W. H. class, and Miss Emma Drew's class had charge of the candy table. The T. M. T. M. club had charge of the cake table.

First Trinitarian Church

was held in the church vestry last night. The dining-room was in charge of Mrs. George D. Ellingwood and Mrs. Petrie. The waitresses were: Misses Fannie Murphy, Rose Kall, Anna Kall, Lillian Hines, Anna Osborne, Mildred Fay, Elizabeth Tiffany, Elizabeth Dykes, Bertha George, Mabelle Sullivan and Florence Dole.

A cantata, "Cinderella in Flowerland," given by members of the Sunday school and under the personal supervision of Miss Mabel Cragin, was a pleasant feature of the evening. The cast of characters was as follows: "Daisy," Isabelle Roy; proud sisters, "Hollyhock," Florence Cutting, and "Tiger Lily," Bessie Ranellet; "God-mother Nature," Eva Henderson; "Bonnie Bee," Rosalie Perley; "Butterflies," Margaret Smith and Annie Thomas; "Robin Red," Agnes Jeyes; "Prince Sunshine," Earle Spalding; "Poppy," Eva McCarthy; "Buttercup," Grace Wilson; "Pansy," Elsie Rollins; "Daffodil," Evelyn Wilson; "Violet," Mary Marshman; "Sweet Brier," Greta Pickering; "Mignonette," Agnes Jeyes; "Lily Bell," Gladys McCloughery; "Sweet Pea," Marion Shelters; "Narcissus," Hazel Smith; six little sunbeams, Frances Thomas, Alice Savard, Lillian Kilpatrick, Mildred Kilpatrick, Mabel Thomas and Beatrice Crawford; six little raindrops, Walter Jeyes, Charles Stanton, Clifford Farley, Frances Graves, Frances Gillespie

and Mabel Stanton. Miss Marion Clogston was the accompanist.

Pawtucket Congregational Church
A strawberry festival was held last night at the Pawtucket Congregational church and it was well attended. The following after supper entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed:

Songs, Mr. Johnson; readings, Mrs. Belle Harrington Hall; violin selections, Zephyr Bissonette. Carl Mason was the accompanist of the evening. The supper was in charge of Mrs. George Ansart and the entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. James McKinley and Mrs. O. R. Park.

Supper and Entertainment
The regular monthly social, supper

and entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the First Congregational church, given in the vestry last night, was attended by a large number of members of the parish. Supper was served from 6.30 to 8 o'clock, and later in the evening an entertainment was given.

Those in charge of the supper were: Mrs. Albert Humphreys, Mrs. Fred Mill, Mrs. Walter Hunt, Mrs. Mary Williams, Mrs. Ada Sanborn, Mrs. William Means, Mrs. J. T. Raxford, Mrs. Edward Fletcher, Mrs. Albert Slocum, Mrs. Lorenzo Smith, Mrs. Leathers, Mrs. W. Atwood and Miss Clara Saunders.

The entertainment, a flag drill, with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," was given under the direction of Mrs. Charles Goggin, and those who participated in it were: Misses Annie Fletcher, Geneva Hanson, Gladys Bigelow, Lorena Burns, Marion Tinker, Helen Pickles, Gladys and Mildred Dubois, Alice Grand, Elizabeth Fulton, Theo Morrill, Helen Osgood, Florence Brooks. Miss Winifred Goggin was accompanist of the evening.

VAUGHN PARDON PETITION HEARD BY THE COUNCIL

Prominent Citizens Favored Par- don But Patrolman Healy Opposed the Petition

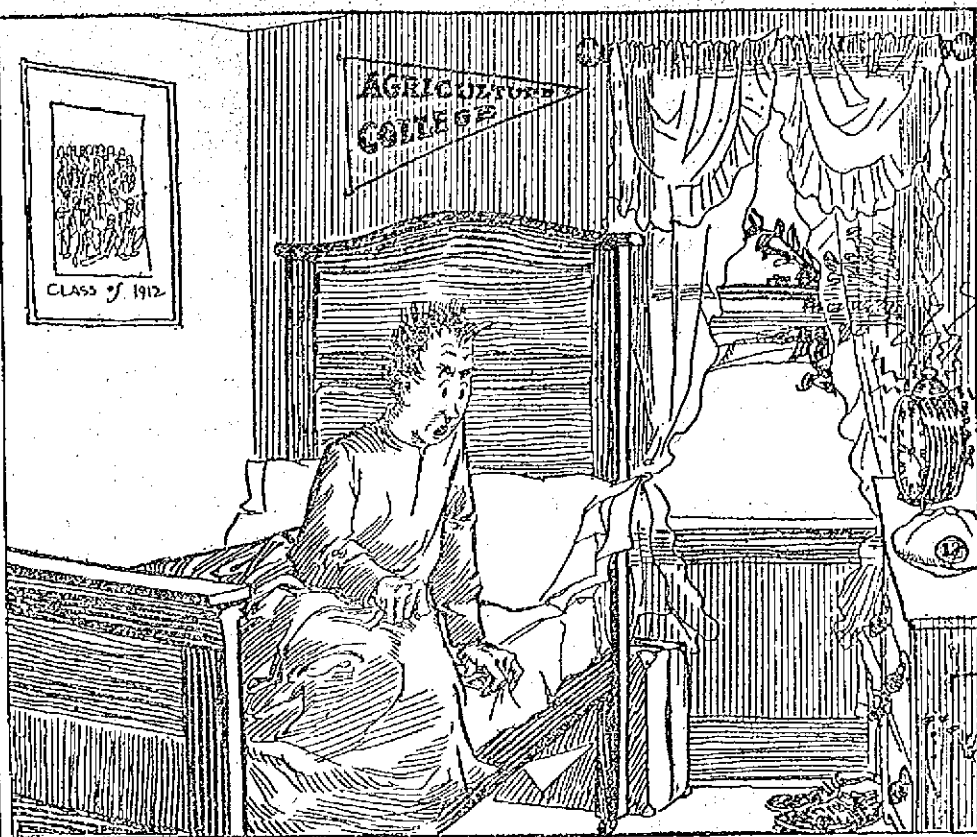

As stated in yesterday's Sun the pardon committee of the governor's council gave a hearing yesterday afternoon on the petition of the pardon of Olan Vaughn convicted with his brother, Robert, of having shot Patrolman John E. Healy of this city. The petition was strongly opposed by Officer Healy, who said he regarded Vaughn a dangerous man. William A. Hogan conducted the case for the petitioners, and Mrs. Vaughn, mother of the prisoner was the first witness.

She said that she had five children, of whom the two boys now confined are all that are left. Since the death of the other members of the family, Mrs. Vaughn said, she had been all alone in the world, and has washed, ironed, lived in an attic room and worked in the mill in her efforts to keep alive and to secure the release of her younger boy from prison.

Mrs. Vaughn said Olan was between 17 and 18 years of age when the crime was committed; she said he was always a good-natured boy, and she had never seen him mad. Robert, on the other hand, had run away from home when he was 15 years old and went to Pennsylvania, where he was sentenced to serve a term of five years for complicity in a robbery, and he returned to Lowell only about three weeks before this crime was committed.

She said she has tried to visit Olan once each month since he has been in prison, and has frequently talked with him about securing his liberty. She said he has never expressed any enmity for Officer Healy, and prefers not to talk about the case. She said her brother has offered to secure him a position in a shoe shop in New Hampshire, where he can secure from $18 to $25 a week, and if he is pardoned it is his intention to go at once to New Hampshire to live. She said Olan would not think of going to Lowell, as he desires to forget all about his former associations there.

Judge Hadley

Judge Samuel P. Hadley, strongly urged a pardon for Vaughn and said he was satisfied that Olan was influenced by his brother Robert.

"If the probation system had been in vogue then," said Judge Hadley, "Olan would never have been sentenced to life imprisonment, in my opinion. I am not here to minimize the crime, not at all, but I do say that having served 13 years, he is entitled to his freedom. After all, the real purpose of punishment is to reform the criminal, and only when it is shown that a criminal is beyond reformation are we justified in banishing him from society. For that reason, I feel that Olan Vaughn has been punished sufficiently."

Supt. Welch of the police department, ex-Mayor Meehan, Dr. P. J. Meehan, ex-Sen. Hibbard, Peter F. Conant, License Commissioner John J. Mullaney, Senator Barlow and Rep. John E. Kearns all spoke in favor of the petition, saying that they considered Vaughn had been punished sufficiently.

Letters were read from former district attorney Fred N. Wier, giving a history of the case, from former Supt. Moffatt, favoring a pardon, Amrose C. Dearborn, a member of the jury that convicted Vaughn, saying the jury would have recommended mercy for Olan Vaughn had it been possible, and from Chairman Pettigrove of the prison commission, saying that Vaughn's conduct in prison has been perfect.

Patrolman Healy

Patrolman Healy stated that he was firmly opposed to a pardon being granted. He said the record of the case as written by Mr. Wier omits the fact that he was struck over the head twice, presumably with the butt of a revolver, and that he also got a black eye. Questioned by a member of the council, he admitted that it was Robert Vaughn who hit him, but said Olan stood over him at the time, pointing a gun at him, while Robert urged his brother to "put another pill into him."

He said the brothers took his watch and chain, and $50 in money. He said he is carrying a bullet today from the revolver of Olan Vaughn, this being in his shoulder, while he has another in his thigh which Robert Vaughn fired at him. He declared his belief that his life would be in jeopardy if Olan were to be let out of prison.

At the conclusion of the hearing the executive council held an executive session and tried to have Officer Healy withdraw his objection to the granting of the pardon, but he positively refused, and the matter went over for one week.

The Thursday evening concert by the orchestra will be resumed at the Vesper-Country club this evening and will continue on Thursdays throughout the season.

JOHN B. HURTUBISE
FORMER RESIDENT OF THIS CITY
DIED IN WINNIPEG

The many friends of Mr. John B. Hurtubise of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and formerly of this city, will be pained to learn of his death which occurred last night at his late home in Winnipeg. Deceased was 65 years of age and was favorably known in Lowell, where he lived for thirty-five years previous to his removal to the northwest about seven years ago.

Mr. Hurtubise was a printer by trade and while in this city was connected with many newspapers, including the Vox Populi, The News, and The Sun, as well as L'Abbeille, a French weekly which he published for a number of years. He counted a large number of friends in Lowell as well as in Canada and his demise will be keenly felt by all who knew him, for he was a man of pleasing disposition and good habits. He is survived by a wife and a daughter, Mrs. George Lacroix of Tisdale, Saskatchewan; a mother, Mrs. F. N. Hurtubise of Janesville, Wis.; two brothers, F. N. A. Hurtubise of this city, and Marcel of Chicago; two sisters, Mrs. George Foster of Janesville, Wis., and Mrs. Frank V. Kennedy of Nashua, N. H. He was a member of L'Union St. Joseph of this city. The remains will be brought to Lowell for burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

WOMAN IS MADE SANE A Bone Was Removed From Her Skull

LYNN, June 6.—A delicate operation on the skull has brought Mrs. Grace L. Warren of Lynn, whose escapades while an inmate of the Danvers insane hospital attracted much attention, from mental illness back to her normal self. The operation was performed recently at Danvers by Drs. C. D. S. Lovell and George H. Gray of Lynn. A piece of the skull three and one-half inches long and one-half an inch wide was removed so successfully that Mrs. Warren recovered consciousness without experiencing so much as a headache. She is rapidly recovering and expresses a feeling of great relief since the operation.

Mrs. Warren is 34 years old and the wife of Alfred Warren of 24 Elm street, Lynn. He is her second husband. In 1909 her first husband, Edgar Statham of Wakefield, shot her at their home in that town. She was wounded badly, but the bullet did not penetrate her brain and she recovered. Statham was sentenced to a term in state prison.

After her second marriage Mrs. Warren's mind became deranged. She had been reading books on occult sciences, and became convinced that she was the spiritual wife and would eventually become the real wife of Prof. Grumbine, whose pupil she had been. Prof. Grumbine, Mrs. Warren's friends say, is a lecturer, exponent of universal religion, and leader of a cult known as the "Order of the White Rose."

Mrs. Warren also became addicted to inhaling ether, having read that this would strengthen within her the power of clairvoyance she wished to develop. She had many strange hallucinations, and often would inhale ether until she would lose consciousness. Finally she was committed to the Danvers asylum.

WILSON MEN
IN CONTROL OF THE NORTH CAROLINA CONVENTION

RALEIGH, N. C., June 6.—The state democratic convention was held here today. Apparently the Woodrow Wilson forces were in complete control and they said they would elect their four delegates at large. Underwood supporters, backed by followers of other candidates, urged an unstructured delegation.

How One Woman Saves Expense

One woman at least in this city has found a remedy for the high cost of living. Instead of buying her soap, toilet articles, foodstuffs, sewing supplies, stationery and other household supplies at the store and paying high prices for them, she buys them direct from the manufacturer, by the Larkin "Factory-to-Home" plan. What she saves in this way (and it is usually one-half the cost of the article) is returned to her by the Larkin Co. in the form of extra products. In this way she gets $2.00 worth of household supplies for every dollar she spends. This plan can be used by any woman just as successfully as it is by her. It means a saving of one dollar, two dollars, or three dollars a week according to the amount of household supplies you use. Write to the Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., for their large Catalog R75. It explains this "Factory-to-Home" method of dealing and describes the various products (over 500 in number) which the Larkin Co. makes.

WATER DEPT. PAYROLL WILL TAKE BIG JUMP

Barrett Says He Could Save Between $15,000 and $20,000 on Pumping Station

The contract for paving blocks for the street department, 11,000 square yards, more or less, has been awarded to the Hildreth Granite company. The bids were opened in the office of Purchasing Agent Dore this forenoon and the Hildreth Granite company's bid, $1.24 a square yard, was the lowest. There were two other bidders and their bids were as follows: Lewis Palmer, Graniteville, $1.57 per square yard and M. O'Mahoney of Lawrence, $1.31 per square yard.

Busy at New Reservoir

The water department payroll will take a big jump this week, a sort of hop, skip and leap, so to speak, and the new reservoir on Centralville heights is responsible for it all. In order to keep well ahead of the contractor doing the concrete work, Commissioner Barrett has had to increase his working force and he has taken on about 50 extra men this week. In order to keep ahead of the contractor, says Mr. Barrett, "it is necessary for us to get a quick move on and I have hired pretty nearly every man in sight. We are removing about 160 yards of dirt a day and we are pushing the excavation work for all it is worth. The new reservoir will be responsible for a big payroll, but the work is there to be done and I am going to get to the end of it just as quickly as picks and shovels can find the way. I doubt if it will be possible to build the new reservoir within the allotted appropriation, but the new reservoir is not a luxury. It is something that we need and need badly and even if it does exceed the appropriation it will be a good investment for the city."

New Pumping Station a Mistake

Commissioner Barrett was not as enthusiastic over the new pumping station and went so far as to say that if he had had the say as to the kind of pumping station to be built at the boulevard he would have saved between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars. "I discussed the new pumping station with you a few days ago," said Mr. Barrett to the Sun reporter, "and we spoke of how beautiful it would appear when finished. We didn't discuss its faults, perhaps because it was too beautiful a day to say unkind things about anything or anybody. But the fact remains that the new pumping station is more or less of a mistake. In the first place it should have been built of ordinary brick instead of Nacoto hollow brick, which, at best, is an experiment here. I have no doubt but that the new pumping station will look very fine but Lowell is not in a position to pay for ornamental buildings at this stage of the game and under present conditions. And, besides, the building was poorly planned. The most important room in the building is the boiler room and a big mistake has been made there. The boilers are sixteen feet long and the tube cleaners, of course, are as long as the boilers. Now the distance from the front of the boiler to the boiler room wall is but eleven feet and in order to work the tube cleaner it will have to be made to double, so to speak. The wall should have come back flush with the chimney. That would provide all the room necessary and the mistakes in this room seem almost unpardonable. Besides the room being too small, the boilers are too close together."

"Why didn't you put a stop to all this?" asked the reporter.

"Because the work was too far advanced before I appeared on the scene," replied the commissioner.

Can't Stand the Pressure

Commissioner Brown says he cannot continue to spend money at the rate he has been going and live within his appropriation. "The demand for street work is greater than I can attend to," said Mr. Brown. "I do not blame the public for asking and demanding certain things but I cannot do even as much as I have been doing and live within my appropriation. I have been criticised for not repairing the Moody street bridge. I have not dared to touch the bridge because the city engineer has said that it would require an appropriation of $12,000 to put the bridge in shape. I cannot afford to exceed my appropriation and in order to keep within its limits I will have to curtail."

Sold Special Castings

The water department had some special castings to sell and advertised them for sale. This was the day named for the opening of the bids and the Builders Iron Foundry of Providence, R. I., was the only bidder. That company offered $505.00 for the special castings, 55 in all, and they bought something.

Fighting the Moths

The park department continues to wage war on the browntail and gypsy moths. The work of extermination is being carried on by the aid of a power sprayer in Belvidere and after the machine has finished there it will move on to Centralville, Pawtucket-

MRS. GREATON'S AWFUL EXPERIENCE

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. MARION SWEET GREATON, No. 1 Jefferson St., Natick, Mass.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-Page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution. It is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

REVOLVER SHOTS FIRED BUT NO ARRESTS MADE

Clinton Strikers Ready to Submit Trouble to the State Board of Arbitration

CLINTON, June 6.—The services of the metropolitan police to assist the local authorities in maintaining order here were requested today by the town officials. The Clinton authorities believe that the situation resulting from the strike of several hundred operatives in the Lancaster mills has reached a stage beyond the control of the town's police force. The Worcester officers who have been doing patrol work here for several days were recalled by the mayor of that city today. Several revolver shots were heard before daylight in the vicinity of the great metropolitan dam, which it is alleged the strikers have threatened to dynamite. The police made a thorough investigation but found no traces of suspected persons.

KIMBALL SHOT HIMSELF BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

He Died in Hospital This Morning—He Was a Resident of Laconia, N. H.

Sylvester Kimball, aged 60 years, a resident of Laconia, N. H., died at 2 o'clock this morning at St. John's hospital from the wound he inflicted by shooting himself last night at the Phillips house in Middlesex street.

Mr. Kimball arrived in this city some time yesterday afternoon, and about 4:30 o'clock he hired a room at the Phillips house. He went to his room and nothing was seen of him until shortly after 7 o'clock when a pistol shot was heard. Mr. Phillips rushed to the room occupied by Kimball and found the latter lying on the bed suffering intense pain.

The ambulance was summoned and the unfortunate man was removed to St. John's hospital where an operation was performed. The following message which Kimball wrote just before he shot himself was found in the room:

"My name is Sylvester Kimball. My address is Laconia, N. H., 504 South Main street, where my wife is now living. I done this awful deed because of poor health and suffering from weak nerves; and my system is breaking up."

"Please break the news very carefully. It will be a hard blow to her. I am going. God bless everybody. S. Kimball."

No trouble now. My faith is the 2nd Psalm. I have a sister, Mrs. Sarah Whitteker, Westworth, N. H., and Mrs. Mary Eastbury, New Bedford, Mass. South Water street."

With the above message was a post-office order for $35, payable to Mrs. Sylvester Kimball.

In the room occupied by Kimball was found a quart bottle half full of whiskey. The bottle had been taken from its wrapper and apparently the purchaser had absorbed a pint of the liquid that he might get up his courage to the suicidal stage.

The revolver found in the room was a cheap weapon, bought at a Lowell store. It was of 38 calibre, and the chamber was fully loaded, except the single shot that had been discharged.

Word received from Laconia late last night indicates that the Kimballs resided there for only a short time. During that time Mr. Kimball had posed as the agent of the Buffalo Gold Mining Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., and had visited many people in that vicinity in an endeavor to sell some of the stock. He had an office in the Harriman building on Main street, Laconia, Mrs. Kimball, when informed of the attempted suicide of her husband, went into hysterics and nothing could be learned from her in regard to antecedents, or where they came from.

TEXTILE SCHOOL

GRADUATION EXERCISES WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

The graduation exercises of the Lowell textile school will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The exercises will be held in Southwick hall in the main school building and everybody is welcome. There are no tickets or invitations, the public being invited without formality. The building will be open for inspection during the day and an interesting feature will be the reproduction of the school's exhibit recently made at the textile show in Boston.

The chief speaker of the afternoon will be Hon. Joseph Walker of Brookline, formerly speaker of the house of representatives. The medal of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers will be presented by Frederick A. Flather and Franklin W. Hobbs, treasurer of the Arlington mills of Lawrence, will present the prize offered by that corporation for proficiency in textile design. This latter prize is open to the competition of both day and evening students.

The graduation exercises have always been meritorious and not excessively technical and this year's program is expected to be unusually pleasing.

LOVE LETTERS

YOUNG VINCENT ASTOR DELUGED WITH THEM

NEW YORK, June 6.—Vincent Astor, who when he becomes of age next November will be the master of an estate of possibly $100,000,000, has been the subject of great solicitude to several thousand correspondents. Letters by the bushel have poured in upon him, ranging from scathing invectives of passion to sober effusions of advice as to the best manner of spending his money.

Mr. Astor is retiring almost to the point of shyness, and this sudden wave of professed affection has overwhelmed him.

Mr. Astor orders the letters burned weekly in big bundles.

MASCIOLI ELECTROCUTED AT 12.18 THIS MORNING

—Reconciled to the End
by Priest

down on his cot and slept soundly. The Current Thrown On. Soon after midnight the witnesses went to the death house. A few moments later the prisoner was taken from his cell to the death chamber, Mr. Murphy and a prison guard escorting him. Four other guards strapped him into the chair. The current, turned on by Edwin B. Currier, chief engineer of the Massachusetts General hospital, was of eight amperes, 1200 volts, and was continuous for 10 seconds. Then it was reduced gradually to 300 volts, held for 20 seconds, and then repeated. Mascioli was then pronounced "legally" dead. It was not decided early this morning whether friends would take charge of the body or whether it would be buried by the state. During the time the witnesses were waiting to go to the death house last night there was no unusual excitement about the prison. No crowds lingered about the streets outside the prison gates, as they did when Clarence V. P. Richeson was executed a few weeks ago. The witnesses included Dr. Joseph I. McLaughlin, the prison physician; Surg. Gen. Charles C. Foster, Medical Examiner George B. Magrath, Rev. M. J. Murphy and William J. Shea, a newspaperman. Others in the death chamber were Warden Bridges, Deputy Warden Nathan D. Allen and the five prison guards. Attended by Fr. Gregori. The Catholic chaplain, Fr. Murphy, and Rev. Vittorio Gregori, C. S. C. B., pastor of the Italian church in North Square, spent most of yesterday with Mascioli, but Fr. Murphy left the cell at 10.30 last night. Mascioli was 23 years old. He came to this country in 1910 and went to board with the Cusumano family at Nantasket beach, Hull, on April 23, 1910. He was the Beau Brummel of the Italian colony and he made himself very pleasing company to his fellow-countrymen. He had known the Cusumano family six months before he went to live in their home. The body of Frank Cusumano was found wrapped in a blanket in the water near Sunset Point on Peabodys island, on the morning of Sept. 14, 1910. After some difficulty an identification was obtained, and because of evidence obtained by Chief of Police Frank Reynolds of Hull, Mascioli and Mrs. Cusumano were arrested and charged with murder. Thomas J. Grady of Boston and William J. Connelley of Abington were retained as their counsel. The trial began at Plymouth early in February and at 6.45 on the morning of Feb. 28 the jury brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree against both defendants. Sentenced to Die. Subsequently both prisoners were sentenced by Judge Schofield to die in the electric chair during the week beginning June 2, 1912. Efforts to obtain a new trial for the defendants were denied in June, 1911. The last woman executed in this state was hanged in Worcester 131 years ago for the murder of her husband. Mrs. Cusumano was brought to the death house from Plymouth by Sheriff Henry S. Porter of Plymouth in an automobile early Memorial day morning. There has been a powerful protest against the execution of the woman, and finally, after new evidence was presented to the governor and his executive council which created a doubt as to the woman's guilt of murder in the first degree, it was unanimously voted to commute her sentence to one of imprisonment for life.

THE SOCIALISTS NOT ALLOWED USE OF CITY HALL AT HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, June 6.—The municipal council, by a vote of 4 to 1 at its meeting yesterday, reiterated its stand in opposing the use of city hall for a meeting in sympathy with Ettore and Giovannitti, the two I. W. W. leaders who were arrested during the textile strike at Lawrence. The council received a petition from the Central Socialist club in which the latter organization referred to the action of the municipal council in turning down a similar request of the Italian Musical club and the action of City Marshal Mack in refusing to allow a parade. The Socialist club maintained its right to hold a public meeting and criticize the courts and said that the use of city hall was wanted at the usual rental for the purpose of an Ettore-Giovannitti meeting and that it was intended to parade and allow the I. W. W. to take part.

BOSTON, June 6.—Enrico Mascioli, better known as Harry Marshall, died in the electric chair at Charlestown state prison at 12.18 this morning for the murder of Frank Cusumano at Hull on or about Sept. 14, 1910. Lena Cusumano, wife of the murdered man, who was sentenced with Mascioli to die in the electric chair for participation in the murder of her husband, escaped because her sentence was commuted yesterday by the governor and his executive council to imprisonment for life. She is the only woman who has ever occupied a death cell at the Charlestown prison. She was removed hours before Mascioli went to his death. Mascioli, or Marshall, ate nothing during his last day, and at 6 last evening, when Rev. M. J. Murphy, the Catholic chaplain of the prison, counseled him to prepare to die, he collapsed. Later in the evening he lay

THE CAPE COD CANAL

While the nation is talking of the great Panama canal, the Bay State has a big canal proposition of its own in the Cape Cod canal, now under construction and to be completed in 1913. This canal will be of great benefit to navigation to and from the port of Boston as many vessels have been wrecked in rounding the Cape in stormy weather. The canal will afford a shelter in such cases and will serve as a military stronghold in time of war, quite as important as its commercial value in time of peace. The canal will pass through the isthmus a distance of eight miles, but to reach deep water in the bays at either end the length will be thirteen miles. The depth will be 25 feet and the minimum width 100 feet at the bottom and 250 at the surface. Traffic across the canal will be conducted on drawbridges.

The canal will be visited Saturday by an excursion party of the Boston chamber of commerce, accompanying the delegates who recently attended the International Navigation Congress at Philadelphia.

The construction of this canal has been agitated since colonial days and a great number of surveys were ordered by congress, but nothing further was done by the federal government. After the construction of the Erie canal in 1825 the stream of commerce was diverted to New York and the importance of the Cape Cod canal was thereafter minimized.

In 1899 a charter was granted to the Boston, Cape Cod and New York Canal company of which Mr. Dewitt C. Flannagan was the prime mover. Mr. August Belmont financed the scheme and work was begun in 1900 to be completed about the same time as the Panama canal or before, as an effort will be made to complete the work by the fall of next year.

The port of Boston is on the eve of a wonderful development and the opening of the Cape Cod canal in conjunction with the extensive scheme of harbor development will have a most beneficial effect upon the commerce of this important port. We expect to see it regain some of the supremacy it lost on the opening of the Erie canal.

TO REGULATE PUBLIC SERVICE STRIKES

A great railroad strike is threatened on the elevated lines in Boston. Such a strike would cause immense inconvenience in Boston and vicinity. Yet the people are helpless. The legislature has been appealed to for some law to make strikes in public service corporations illegal until the matters in controversy have been investigated and fully reported upon. But nothing has been done about it. Until some such law is put into effect these strikes will continue to paralyze industry while they last and to inflict as much if not more injury upon the strikers than upon the companies they are intended to coerce. There should be some legal restraint upon the tie-up of public service corporations and this can be done without interfering in the least with the rights of labor to seek better conditions by every means in its power.

The threat of the management of the Boston Elevated to spend a million dollars rather than recognize the union is not calculated to conciliate the men who are determined to force the issue. If the elevated were a private corporation such a threat would not concern the general public so much as it does coming from the head of a public service corporation. The issue involves the convenience and we might say the rights of 1,500,000 people included in the twelve cities and towns reached by the elevated system. The railroad manager who leaves the public out of the consideration is not fit to hold such an important post and one in which mismanagement may precipitate a state of affairs bordering upon anarchy.

BOARD OF TRADE REPORT

The annual report of Secretary Murphy of the board of trade is a very creditable presentation of the various activities of the board throughout the year. President Greene was always ready to give his time and his labor for the benefit of the city wherever he thought he could accomplish something of importance. He did good work on the new charter as on many other important movements, and in one and all he had the valuable assistance of the efficient secretary, John H. Murphy. The board of late has become an active force for the good of the community and may remain so while it means business and keeps out of partisan politics and sectionalism of all kinds.

THAT CITY LOAN

Mayor O'Donnell is justified in dealing as he has done with the three Lowell representatives who opposed the necessary loan to meet a debt they helped to pile up while members of the old city council. The implication that men elected to office under a charter which they opposed has anything to do with the present situation is all nonsense. With a loan of less than $300,000 the municipal board will not be able to take care of the note for $700,000 falling due in July. The legislature might as well grant the permission sought as juggle over it and grant an amount so small that it will be of no practical benefit to the city.

The democratic national program includes a provision for new roads, something which in the past had been held unconstitutional. The constitution is now more liberally interpreted, however, not only in this but in many other respects. Federal control is now extended where heretofore it would have been deemed as an infringement upon the rights of the sovereign states.

The member of the Lawrence school board convicted of planting dynamite should not make it necessary to have formal proceedings inaugurated for his removal. One would suppose that he would promptly resign from a board for which his conviction renders him wholly ineligible. It should not be necessary to apply the recall in such a case.

The municipal council should lose no time on the construction of the proposed comfort stations on Paige street, near Bridge. It is proposed to have one on either side of the street to accommodate both sexes and to have them big enough so that there will be ample light and ventilation. They should have been provided long ago.

The executive council did right in commuting the sentence of Mrs. Cusumano and letting her male associate in the crime go to his doom. Few murderers have escaped conviction in this state of late. That is as it should be; but it would seem that so many executions should lessen the number of such crimes in the future. That remains to be seen.

Seen and Heard

I had heard that bananas were green when productive of great heat and when piled in cars and storehouses the heat was almost unbearable. Yesterday I happened along when a car containing 500 bunches of bananas was being opened and you may take it from yours truly that the heat story is all right. The car was well ventilated but the heat was probably as great as in any boiler room in the city. The consignee or purchaser of the bananas told me that there is a big demand for ripe bananas at the present time and he said that unless they were given lots of air it doesn't take them long to ripen. He allowed, however, that forced ripening does not improve the taste of the bananas. "I have seen bananas cook right on the stalk," he said, "and then sold for rare times."

We were talking about the high cost of living and one of the party, a fellow familiar with the wholesale business in general, said that the newspapers and magazines were wont to place all the blame for the high cost of living on the shoulders of the middle man and the rest of us allowed that the newspapers and magazines were right. "In the majority of cases," said the defender of the middle man, "the retailer is to blame. I know retailers who have been buying strawberries for seven cents a box and getting fifteen cents a box for them. The middle man has been selling the retailer potatoes at the rate of 35 cents a peck and we have had to pay the retailer as high as 60 cents a peck for the same potatoes. Don't blame everything on the middle man. The retailer is no angel."

Sandy was an elder in the church, and a truly pious man. He had an eye for beauty and a love for it, but he married Tina because he knew she would make him an excellent wife. "I suppose Tina is a handsome lass?" said Sandy's cousin, who met

"An old lady was going over the zoo, and after some time she went up to a keeper and tapped him on the shoulder with her umbrella. "Well, mum?" said the keeper. "I want to ask you," explained the old lady, "which of the animals in the zoo you consider the most remarkable?"

"The keeper scratched his head" for a while; then— "Well, mum?" he replied, "after careful consideration, as you might say, I've come to the conclusion as the wisest goes to the laughing hyena." "Indeed!" said the old lady, in surprise. "And why do you consider the laughing hyena so remarkable?" "Well, mum," answered the zoological expert, "he only has a sleep once a week, he only has a meal once a month, and he only has a drink once a year. So what he's got to laugh about is a 'Bleedin' mystery' to me!"

NANCY JANE (Harper's Weekly). She cannot make the sort of pies that mother used to make. She cannot make the sort of bread that mother used to bake. She cannot knit such good tabs as the mother used to knit. Nor can she crochet mittens like the ones my mother knit. She has no knack at mending socks such as my mother had. Nor can she plank a pompano as mother planked the shad. She cannot sweep, she cannot dust, as did my dear old ma. And when it comes to crazy quilts her product's under par.

She cannot harness up a horse the way my mother could. She cannot put up preserves in jars as mother's half sister could. She cannot shine the brasses on our ancient fireplace. The way my mother always did with a little old smeller. She cannot hoe potato hills or plant a row of corn. I doubt if she could really blow out a candle here. She don't know how to milk a cow or set a setting hen. Nor could she handle as ma did the chicken coop and pen.

She cannot make a pair of jeans that anyone could wear. Although my mother made my dad's, with some for me to spare. She cannot take an old machine and fix it so it will run again. That she could wear to meelin' or when shoppin' in the town. She cannot keep her pots and pans as clean as mother did. She's mighty poor at flapjacks and her biscuits I would shun. Indeed, in quite a hundred things like that I've heard my mother do. Was far away superior to Nancy Jane, I fear.

And yet I love her and rejoice that she at last is mine. Her love has guided all my life with happiness divine. Nor do I miss lament the fact that things that mother did. She cannot do—it is the truth, and truth may not be his. I do not miss the things at all; I suffer not a bit. And life is such that I am always satisfied with what I have. For Nancy Jane has millions and—I'll whisper it to you—Has got the cash to pay for things that mother used to do.

CORPUS CHRISTI

ANNUAL PROCESSION IN ST. JOSEPH'S PARISH NEXT SUNDAY

The third annual procession in honor of the feast of Corpus Christi in St. Joseph's parish will be held next Sunday afternoon from St. Jean Baptiste church to the grove of Our Lady of Lourdes at the French American orphanage in Pawtucket street. The ceremony will be on a larger scale than in previous years. The procession will be composed of all the fraternal and church societies of the parish including the military guards and the children who recently made their first communion and those who were confirmed a week or so ago, as well as members of the clergy. In the early part of the afternoon the march will assemble in the upper part of St. Joseph's church where a short sermon will be delivered probably by the pastor, Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I., followed by the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

At 2:30 o'clock the procession headed by a brass band and the members of the St. M. C. will start, the line of march being through Allen street to Moody, to Pawtucket and into the grounds of the orphanage, where benediction will be given at the grove. At the close of the ceremony the procession will return to St. Jean Baptiste church by way of Pawtucket and Merrimack streets. At the church the procession will be dismissed while the women will enter the church and listen to a sermon.

The Comfort and Economy of Tourist Sleeping Cars in Traveling to the Pacific Coast

I would like to explain to you, just what a Tourist sleeping car is, what conveniences and comforts they have, and how you can save money by joining one of our through parties, which go to the coast every week in one of these cars, escorted by a special conductor employed by the "Burlington Route" to look after your comfort. For many years the Burlington Route Tourist Car Excursions to California have been widely known for the excellence of the service provided, and the character of the employees in charge. The whole idea of these parties is to provide a way for people of moderate means, to make the California trip comfortably and in thoroughly good hands, and at the same time at an expense that is not prohibitive. Please call at the office or write a postal will do. Alex. Stokes, New England Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R., 254 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

McMANUS ELECTED HEAD OF THE MOOSE

Next Meeting to be Held in Providence

HOLYOKE, June 5.—The selection of Providence as the meeting place of the Moose next year and the election of officers were the most important features of yesterday's session of the New England branch of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Joseph McManus of Fall River was elected president.

The convention closed at 4 yesterday afternoon, and last evening a banquet given the visiting delegates, about 20 in number, on Mt. Tom.

The convention was opened at 10 yesterday morning by Past Dictator Martin J. Leary of Holyoke, who introduced Mayor John J. White. Dictator Frank O'Connell, who was to have officiated, was ill with a cold.

Mayor White welcomed the delegates in behalf of the city and introduced Pres. W. H. Bullard of the board of trade, who also gave the delegates a welcoming speech. The convention discussed a motion for members of the order afflicted with tuberculosis and a committee consisting of a member from each lodge will be appointed to take up the matter and report later. The bylaws were revised and various routine matters transacted. A vote of thanks was extended to the Holyoke lodge.

The principal speakers at the banquet last night were W. H. Bullard, president of the board of trade, and City Solicitor J. O'Connor. The delegates will go by boat from Holyoke to Springfield today.

Officers were elected as follows: Joseph McManus of Fall River, president; James Reilly of Providence, vice president; C. L. Dennis of Bridgeport, secretary; Chas. M. Sands of Springfield, treasurer; P. J. Fitzgerald of Boston, sergeant-at-arms; C. L. Mead of Braintree, inside guard; Herbert C. Pike of Lynn, outside guard. The executive committee will be appointed by the president.

BELVIDERE WHIST CLUB

Mrs. A. E. O'Hair entertained the Belvidere Whist club at her beautiful home on Clark road yesterday afternoon. The day was grand for an outing, and all had a thoroughly good time. The guests indulged in whist and other amusements. At which the scores ran high, and the honors of the game fell to Mrs. Edward Martin and Miss Winifred Haggerty, and both received beautiful favors. Music, both vocal and instrumental was enjoyed, after which a very dainty and palatable lunch was served, and it was the unanimous verdict that the outing was a grand success.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

As cool as the traditional cucumber Keith's theatre is getting the crowds these days with its program of five big vaudeville acts, five reels of the best of motion pictures and the celebrated Keith's eight piece orchestra. This is Thursday, which means a change of bill with the exception of Alfredo, the wonderful violinist, who has been retained for the entire week by request. Alfredo is but a mere youth and yet he is a master of the violin. From the classic compositions to the popular rag-time he is equally at home while his tones in the opinion of the critics are magnificent. But there will be two headline acts for the remainder of the week for Isabelle Everson, one of the most beautiful of stage heroines, appears with her company of 14 people in a charming dramatic production. Miss Everson was one of the most recent of the leading ladies of the celebrated Boston Museum stock company, the strongest stock aggregation the country has ever known. She played leads with Joseph Howarth, Jack Mason, Edgar Davenport and others of national reputation and was famous for her beauty as well as her talent. In addition to these two exceptionally strong acts there will be three other reels of new motion pictures. Don't forget that the interior of the theatre is kept at a delightful temperature no matter how hot it may be outdoors.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Another week of successes is being enjoyed by the members of the Temple Players at the Merrimack Square theatre. Their presentation of the complete miniature musical comedy entitled "Circus Days" has many original features that are up to the standard of past performances, and they combine in making most amusing entertainment. Miss Hawthorne, producer and leading soloist of the company, is seen in several excellent numbers and the other members of the cast are also assigned to parts in which they seem best suited. James Fynes, Jr., is good in his song, "P. T. Barnum Had the Right Idea," and Miss Nichols and Miss Wood have solo numbers that are most enjoyable. Miss Nichols' "Baseball" number, assisted by the members of the Temple Ballet, is one of the big hits of the week. Miss Giltaine does clever execution in a dancing number. Earl and Bartlett, in "O'Brien from Galway," dispense a large measure of humor in a delightful manner. They open their act with a laugh, carry it along on laughs and close in a roar. Some good singing is also mixed with it in a pleasing manner. Ben Tigero, Dutch comedian, has a good singing voice and his own manner of "putting over" his humor is most enjoyable. Miss Alice Bagler, the week's vocalist, is heard in some of her latest and best song-hits. Donnelly Hendon, comedy acrobat, is also clever. The photo-plays for the last three days of the week are excellent portrayals taken from life. These picture plays are shown in this city for the first time and are among the best products of the biggest manufacturers. Remember that this theatre is "the coolest spot in town."

Watchman" built just for laughing purposes are features of the new bill at the Theatre Voyons today. The best of the biograph comedians appear in these and they are most satisfying if one cares to laugh. Pathe's Weekly is an exceptionally interesting number showing many different views of current events. Then the dramatic feature "Broncho Billy's Bible" shows the favorite western actor, William A. Anderson, in one of his cleverest roles. It is beautifully staged and is really one of the best pictures the star has ever appeared in.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

THE OLD STORY. "Did that explorer suffer any physical ailment as a result of his trip to the South Pole?" "Yes." "What was it?" "Writer's cramp."

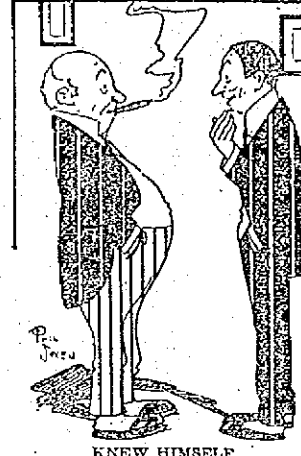

SENSITIVE. "Don't you ever go to a ball game?" "Well, no, I went to one 11 years ago, and the team lost, and I know that everybody considers me a hoodoo."

THAT GARDEN. "Do you intend cultivating a garden?" "No. That would deprive me of the joy of reading and believing in these beautiful seed catalogues."

TOO MUCH FOR HIM. Foreigner—Oh! see langvatich! Native—What's the matter with it? Foreigner—You say, "I am down and out; I am all in." Oh! see langvatich!

KNOW HIMSELF. Mr. Gotrocks (to his daughter's suitor)—But my dear sir, my daughter has been used to every luxury. Mr. I. M. P. Cunius—Well, she'll find me a luxury, too.

NO LONGER PLAT. Reformer—I hope you are not playing politics? Politician—There's no such thing as playing politics. Politics these days is work.
